In dedicating the new Postoffice Department building in Washington, Postmaster General Farley defined postal policy as an effort "to extend and improve the service; eliminate all waste and extravagance; see that no special privileges are granted; make working conditions, so far as possible, the best in the country, and require that integrity and ability be the first requirements in selection of all public servants". If all this be the case, why don't we keep country city postoffices open Saturday afternoon's to accommodate the public.

The lad who knows all about the carnivals and tent shows that comes to town informs us there are five or six scheduled for this fall—when the cotton begins to open. Hope the city will collect licenses from each of them and not remit on account of showing under the auspices of something or other.

A letter received from the Missus in Washington, D. C., stated she and Mary and the kids were leaving Thursday of this week for Fredericksburg, Richmond and Williamsburg, Va., and on to Atlanta, Ga. Guess she will be home in ten days, and will be glad!

Seeing the demolition of the old Southern Hotel in St. Louis brings to mind that once upon a time we had a breakfast at the famous Tony Faust restaurant that cost the Government $2.85. Them was the good old days.

Now is the time for all good men to stand by the Government. Never in the history of the Nation has any President had so much to contend with as has President Roosevelt. Except a few bitter Republicans little criticism has been uttered against his administration, and they are bound to confess that he has tried about everything to end the depression. There has been a lot of money spent for things that may make little or no show in years to come, but it has fed hungry folks and that is what counts.

Mad dog scares in many sections is causing a quarantine of all dogs. Dick Swanner was bitten by a dog Tuesday, whether mad or not, it causes terrible suspense to parents. The treatment for dog bite is painful and costly. There's no more horrible death than that caused by hydrophobia. If the dogs are not kept up some patriot ought to put out dope that will make good dogs of them.

This is to inform the readers of The Standard that it takes cash to pay postage and buy white print paper, and all who have an idea their subscription has expired are requested to call and fix the matter up. Three tons of white print paper direct from the Canadian mills cost about $170 cash on the barrel head and will last probably three months. It is the little bills that eat us up in the long run.

M. S. Murray, of Kansas City, formerly of Sikeston, was in Southeast Missouri during the week in the interest of Judge Harry S. Truman's candidacy for the United States Senate to succeed Roscoe Patterson, Republican. In speaking of Judge Truman, The Independence Examiner, his home country paper, has the following to say of him: "Missouri this year has an opportunity to get away from the two large cities and elect a country boy to the Senate. Judge Harry S. Truman of Independence, is distinctively a product of the country. He was born and reared between the plow handles on a Jackson county farm, where he lived until the World War. He went to France as a captain of Field Artillery with the Missouri and Kansas troops, and now is a Colonel in the Field Artillery Reserve. President of the National Old Trails Road, he is known from coast to coast as a good roads enthusiast. For ten years, he served as judge of Jackson county, eight years as presiding judge, spending fifty-five million dollars without a single smell of graft. He is the father of the Jackson county road system, the finest in the United States. In October, 1933, he was appointed Federal re-employment director for Missouri, resigning when he filed for the Senate. He is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Baptist church, is married and has one child".

NEW FEATURES PLANNED FOR AIRPORT DEDICATION

With the formation of plans for entertaining and accommodating the crowd of 20,000 persons who are expected to attend the municipal airport dedication ceremonies July 3 and 4, residents of Sikeston are agreeably surprised at the gigantic size of the program which is being arranged.

No expense has been spared in securing notables, entertainers and exhibitors of all kinds for a celebration which, according to members of the city board of aeronautics "will surpass anything ever seen between St. Louis and Memphis."

Chief among the features recently acquired is the Missouri National Guard unit under the direction of Major Phil Love, which was secured largely because of an air trip made to St. Louis Tuesday by Leonard McMullin, John Powell, Granville Phillips, and Hubert Boyer.

The National Guard, stationed at the Lambert flying field in St. Louis, now numbers six ships. Several which are being used for mail service are expected to be released as private companies are contracted by the federal government, before the celebration, however, so that they may accompany other planes in the unit to Sikeston. The fleet will arrive at noon July 3 and will remain here during the whole of the festival.

A second feature, perfected this week, will be an aerial wedding in which a maximum of three couples will be married in an airplane as it is flown over the field. Joe Reed, piloting a 14-passenger trimotored Ford plane belonging to the Robertson Airplane Company of St. Louis, will take the couples, witnesses, passengers and Judge Leonard McMullin into the air. Judge McMullin will perform the ceremony at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 4.

The first two persons who signify a desire to be wed in the plane will be given a free honeymoon trip to St. Louis. Any young people of Southeast Missouri who want to get married at the dedication ceremonies are requested by aeronautics board members to write or call Harry Young at Sikeston. The first three couples whose names are filed here will be participants in this novel wedding.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of July 4, from three to five pilots, carrying negroes in their planes, cockpits, will engage in an amusing race which has never been staged here before. Starting together, they will leave the field here and fly to Bertrand, circling the grain elevator before returning to Sikeston and landing.

Here, the negroes will jump from their planes and go to a designated place, where they will rapidly consume a sack of popcorn and a quart of buttermilk. Then they will rush to the ships, which will carry them again to the elevator at Bertrand and then back. The first pilot who lands his plane in Sikeston will be declared the winner.

Another stunt which will be staged later during the afternoon of July 4 is a balloon bursting contest. Singly, as many pilots as care to compete will take off in open ships while they hold in one hand 24-inch inflated balloons. When they reach an altitude of 800 feet they will release the balloons, which will rise behind and above them. Then they will turn their planes as speedily as possible and mount until they break the balloons with their propellers. The pilot completing the maneuver in the shortest length of time will win the contest.

Orders have been placed for two $500 sets of fireworks, which will be set off during the evenings of the celebration and will include bombs, skyrockets, and aerial bursting formations. In addition to these aerial displays at night, fireworks will be set off during the daytime.

At the dance, to be held at 10 o'clock on the evening of July 3 at the Armory, Reggie Ausmus and his 10-piece orchestra, which is performing this summer at Gaebler's Black and Gold Inn at Columbia and is broadcasting daily over KFRU, will be here to play. Jimmy Doolittle, flying a Lockheed Orion plane with retractable landing gear, and Jimmie Haslip, in a Balanca, will be present to participate in the ceremonies, and efforts are still being made to secure Jimmie Faulkner, who is the first commercial pilot of Missouri and is now personal pilot for Henry L. Dougherty, head of the Cities Service Companies, as well as other notable air men.

Doolittle, it will be remembered, won national fame when he flew over the Andes mountains in South America with both legs, which had been broken the night before a contest, in casts. Haslip is holder of the west to east transcontinental record.

Plans for the style show, at which 12 young women from separate Southeast Missouri towns will parade on an improvised platform while the band of the 140th infantry of the National Guard, under the direction of Lieut. O. T. Honey of Chaffee, plays, are being completed.

In addition to these many attractions, the Royal Amusement Company, with five rides and 25 concessions, will exhibit and stunt and formation flying will be staged thruout the two days.

On display at the field will be a new monocoque plane, which will be brought here by Ernest Harper and Hubert Boyer, Sikeston distributors for the ships.

Adequate arrangements have been made for accommodating the huge crowds expected at the celebration, and space has been provided at the airport for the free parking of all automobiles belonging to visitors.

Youth Killed When Car Leaves Highway

Leondice Wilkerson, 21-year-old youth of Bertrand, died at 8 o'clock Monday evening of injuries received in an automobile accident near Commerce Monday afternoon. He had suffered a skull fracture, a multiple fracture of the jaw, and numerous cuts and bruises.

As he was driving to Commerce with a companion, Wilkerson lost control of his Ford roadster when the radius rod broke. The automobile left the road and fell fifty feet to the Frisco tracks below.

When he was found, the youth's head was lying on the railroad track, his body pinned under the car. His companion, who was thrown from the machine, was not injured.

Wilkerson was taken to St. Francis hospital in Cape Girardeau at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. He never regained consciousness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Lair funeral home in Charleston. Burial was in the Oak Grove cemetery at Charleston. The youth is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wilkerson of Bertrand.

Steamer J. S. Has Really Good Southern Band

New Orleans is noted for its good bands. Many big bands from New York and Chicago have tried to adopt the New Orleans Syncopation—but there is something distinctive about this Southern Syncopation that is very hard to duplicate.

Captain Verne Streckfus, the Master of the J. S., selected a band for the 1934 season, which, he says, is the pick of all the New Orleans Bands, for the cruise of the J. S. up the Mississippi River.

The band Captain Streckfus engaged is PIRON'S Dixie Cotton Pickers under the direction of A. J. Piron in person. Piron was the first colored leader to play an engagement at the Roseland Ballroom in New York City. He and his band also played at the De Luxe Club, now the Cotton Club in the Harlem belt in New York.

At New Orleans he has played the leading Hotels and Clubs; namely, St. Charles Hotel, Roosevelt Hotel, New Orleans Country Club, Suburban Gardens and Tranchina's Night Club.

Piron has recorded many popular records for the Victor, Columbia and Okeh Companies.

As a composer, he is well remembered by that popular number, "I Wish I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Kate", which number bro't forth a compliment from the Prince of Wales.

During the winter a brand new level dance floor was laid on the J. S., and with the marvelous New Orleans Colored Orchestra, a rare treat is in store for the dancers in this community when the J. S. stops at Cape Girardeau to take out two excursions on Sunday, June 17th. There will be an afternoon excursion leaving Cape Girardeau at 3 p. m., and returning at 6 p. m. The moonlight excursion will leave 8:30 p. m. and return at 12 p. m.

Semo Burial Association Moves to Bank Building

The office of the Southeast Missouri Burial Association, which for several years has been maintained at the Powell Insurance Agency in West Center Street, was moved Wednesday morning into the quarters formerly occupied by officials of the People's Bank on the corner of Center and North New Madrid Streets.

There workmen have been busy cleaning the space, building a small room, and constructing a railing, behind which have been placed the equipment taken from the Powell office, as well as two desks, a filing cabinet, and an adding machine, recently purchased.

The new office for the growing concern, which now has 20,000 policy holders, was leased because John Powell, secretary-treasurer of the association, sold his interest in the business so that he could devote all of his time to matters pertaining to his insurance agency.

Miss Berniece Hagaman, who came here June 1 from Springfield, Mo., to serve as secretary of the organization, will be assisted in the office by Miss Jo Smith. C. C.

White is president and treasurer, and J. W. Stone is vice-president and supervisor of agents.

MRS. JANE RAGSDALE

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Ragdsdale, 59 years old, who died in a Cape Girardeau hospital early Wednesday morning of complications which followed a major operation, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at her home here by the Rev. Finus E. Jones. Burial was in the city cemetery.

Besides her husband, Claude Ragdsdale, she is survived by six children, all of a former marriage; two daughters, Mrs. Vernon Heister of Cape Girardeau and Mrs. Chas. Andrews of Vienna, Ill., and four sons, Jack, Chas., Henry and Fred Hazel, all of Sikeston. A fifth son, Paul, died last October. Welsh service.

R. F. Dierking, of Jefferson City, representing the Portland Cement Association, was a business visitor in Sikeston Thursday and paid The Standard office a visit. He is a friend of T. Wilson. 'Nuf sed!

HOLLINGSWORTH'S DRUG STORE TO BE OPEN SOON

W. E. Hollingsworth expects to have his drug store, which is located in the building occupied by Dudley's confectionery, open for business by a week from Saturday. Workmen are now active rearranging the store's show cases and setting in place one recently purchased and in redecorating the interior of the building.

The partition which formerly divided the booths from the soda fountain has been removed, the booths have been placed in the center of the floor of the rear half of the store and the cases put in front and alone the sides of the building.

Mr. Hollingsworth, who will have a registered pharmacist present at all times to care for prescription and drug orders, will be active in the operation of his concern, which will be stocked with all standard kinds of drug goods.

Jack Lancaster, who now owns and manages the confectionery, will continue to operate at his present location.

DOG BITES DICK SWANNER

Dick Swanner, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Swanner, was bitten by a bird dog belonging to Buddy Lair, as he was returning home Tuesday afternoon from a music lesson at the home of Mrs. H. J. Welsh. A deep wound on his right thigh was closed with a stitch. Dick is now recovering at home.

In the back yard of the F. D. Lair home, Lair and Herman Henry took the dog from her pen while they looked at her pups. They saw Dick, cutting through the back yard, evidently to save time, and saw the dog start toward him, but they were unable to reach the child in time to save him from the attack.

The dog first attempted to reach Dick's face, but he dodged. He could not escape, however, and the dog bit his leg, taking from it a piece approximately the size of a quarter. Lair and Henry soon rescued the child from the dog and took him to the office of Dr. T. C. McClure, where he was treated.

It is presumed that the dog was fearful for the safety of her pups.

WOMEN HEAR REPORT ON RIPLEY SURVEY

Mrs. Ezra Ponder entertained members of the Lectus Club of Doniphan and Sikeston friends Tuesday afternoon at a party given at her home on Moore Avenue.

After a luncheon at 1 o'clock women present heard a paper, given by Mrs. C. F. Allen of Doniphan on "Findings of the Ozarks", which embodied notable results of the recent survey made by CWA workers on industries, churches, libraries, Indian relics, social and social service organizations and hospitals of Ripley County. The most important discovery, Mrs. Allen found, was that Ripley county had served as a playground for the Indian living in Missouri territory.

Women who came from Doniphan, besides Mrs. Allen, were Mesdames T. J. Buford, Sr., T. J. Buford, Jr., E. K. Buford, C. F. Allen, H. J. Withrow, K. Shenwell, A. D. Sheppard and John Chilton. Mrs. A. O. Rodes, her sister, Mrs. Jos. H. Allen of St. Joseph, Mrs. Harry Hartly and Mrs. Frank Noonan were also present.

FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT NEAR CHURCH

Buck Carter was fined $10 and costs after he was found guilty in Judge W. H. Carter's police court Tuesday afternoon of molesting a young woman at the Pentecostal church Sunday evening.

According to the testimony of four witnesses, Carter, under influence of liquor, attempted to escort the young woman home after the church services. When she refused to accompany him, it is said, he choked, struck, cursed and abused her. He was arrested Monday evening by Bill Robinson, special police officer, who placed him in the city jail until the trial.

When he was unable to pay the fine and costs, which totaled $17.70, Carter was taken again to the jail. Thursday morning he began to work on the city streets.

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the local Methodist church was entertained Tuesday night by Mrs. Ray Marshall and Mrs. Chris Francis, at the former's home on North Kingshighway. At this time it was planned to give a "Manless Wedding" later in the month. The hostesses for next month will be announced later.

Edward Fuchs, Jr., was a business visitor in New Madrid, Monday.

Negro Murderer Caught By Officers in Cairo

Green Phillips, 25-year-old negro, who has been wanted for the murder the night of March 3 of Rube T. Pollack, special officer for the Rock Island railroad at Brinkley, Ark., and for a robbery at the post office at Fair Oaks, Ark., on February 11, was caught at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning during a raid at Cairo. After waving extradition, to was taken to Blytheville by Clarence Wilson, sheriff of Mississippi County, Arkansas.

Members of the raiding party who captured Phillips were Sergeant R. R. Reed of the State highway patrol office here; Sheriff Wilson, Ed Rice, chief of police, and Thurman Adkins, officer, all of Blytheville; C. V. McShawn, special agent of the Rock Island railroad; J. T. Reinmiller, special agent, and E. E. Parker, special officer, both of the Frisco railway. They were assisted by Cairo policemen.

The circumstances of the murder are worthy of repetition. During an inspection of railroad cars in the Rock Island yards at Brinkley, an employee of the company found a fire burning on a piece of tin on the floor of the car.

He called Pollack, who came and entered the car to investigate the fire.

"What are you doing here?" he asked a negro whom he saw lying on the floor of the car.

Without a word, the negro rolled over, took a gun, and fired, shooting Pollack four or five times in the legs and abdomen.

Although he was severely hurt, Pollack aimed his gun and shot at the negro, wounding him in the hip before he escaped. Pollack lived for several days after the shooting. Since that time, officers have been searching for the fugitive.

Kendall Qualifies As Chief of Police

Walter Kendall qualified as Sikeston's chief of police at a called meeting of members of the City Council Monday evening. A bond, to replace one made four years ago, is now being prepared and will probably be signed soon.

It is hoped that the administration of the oath of office will end difficulties which have existed since Kendall was re-elected to the police chief's position in April. Since that time Kendall has refused to qualify and to accept checks for a $50 monthly salary. It is said that he was dissatisfied because his compensation was not larger.

Some time ago Dr. G. W. Presnell appointed Bill Robinson as special police officer to execute the duties pertaining to the police chief's office.

Then at a regular meeting June 4 of members of the City Council, a motion to declare the office of chief of police vacant and to arrange for a special election to choose a successor to the position was passed unanimously.

It is said that after the meeting Kendall spoke to several councilmen, asking them to reconsider their decision. At Monday's session, while members were attempting to determine a date for an election, it was suggested that Kendall be given another opportunity to meet the demands of his office. He was brought to the City Hall, the motion declaring his office vacant was rescinded, and the oath given.

A petition for the sale of liquor by the drink which has been circulating in Sikeston for about two weeks and now bears more than 600 names, was tabled until January when Robt. Dempster, city attorney, stated that no election may be held within sixty days of another one. Since voters will soon go to the polls at the primaries in August and at the general election in November, no special election may be called for some time.

Two tax ordinances, similar to ones made annually, were passed at the meeting Monday evening. One fixed the city property tax rate at $1.10 a $100 valuation, 50 cents to be used for general revenue and 60 cents for the sinking fund. The second ordinance levied a city poll tax of $2 on all men between the ages of 21 and 50. A third ordinance, tabled at the June 4 session, changed the name of Ethel avenue to East Gladys Street.

The City Clerk, A. C. Barrett, was instructed to write all licenses for selling beer of more than 3.2 per cent for a year ending in December, 1934. He was told not to reduce the fee, which is $10.

A Short Encounter Nets Needed Money

With the payment a few days ago of a tax and interest on 20 gallons of whisky, the story of a Sikeston resident who had an unfortunate encounter with the law is ended.

Difficulties began on April 23, 1933, when the man was arrested by federal prohibition agents as he was enroute here from New Madrid County with a load of liquor. The agents seized his car, his pistol, and his whiskey, and for a brief period kept him in the New Madrid County jail.

The following day he was arraigned in the federal court at Cape Girardeau, where he was fined $50. His total losses at that time were one pistol, twenty gallons of whisky, and money for the fine and for a lawyer.

In July of the same year, the resident received a bill from the federal government for a tax of $1.10 on the liquor which the agents had taken. For some time he ignored it.

This week, however, he paid the government $22 in taxes on the whisky and $3.08 for 5 per cent interest which had accumulated since the tax was first assessed.

It is generally conceded that the government's debt should be greatly reduced by the harvest which it has reaped from its brief acquaintance with the resident.

SIMPSON LEADS LEAGUE

The Simpson Oilers moved into first place in the munny baseball league last Thursday by defeating the Himmelberger-Harrison team 8 to 7.

On Tuesday they further strengthened their hold by downing Kirby 3 to 1 in a game characterized by sensational catches by members of their team, who outfielded their opponents. Simpson has now won four games and lost two.

In Thursday's game, which required eight innings to break a 7 to 7 tie at the end of the seventh, a Himmelberger-Harrison representative requested that the game be thrown out and another played at a later date because of two arguments which resulted from the umpire's decisions.

At his second time at bat, Jack Lancaster stepped from the box to hit a curve ball, which brought in two runs. The Morehouse team manager objected on the grounds that in stepping from the box Lancaster violated baseball rules. The umpire, Gene Buckles, however, stated that Lancaster did not go beyond his permitted three feet. His decision stands.

During the last play in the game when a ball passed the catcher, the catcher and spectators, it is said, state that it was fouled by the batter. The umpire, in refusing to change his decision on this matter, stated that the ball did not strike anyone. The winning run was brought in on this play.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Reese went to Cairo Thursday, where that night they attended the graduating exercises of the Cairo high school. Norman Chambliss, a nephew of Mrs. Reese, was a member of the class. Mr. and Mrs. Reese will remain in Cairo until Saturday, visiting relatives.

Upon his return to Chaffee after adjournment of the Special Session of the Legislature, Eugene M. Munger, prominent attorney of Scott County, informally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this, the new 10th Congressional District, and today formally announces as a candidate.

Elected to the General Assembly from this county in 1932, upon taking up his duties in January, 1933, he early became a leader in that body. He devoted his time to legislation affecting the citizens of Southeast Missouri particularly and assisted Senator Langdon Jones, Kennett, in re-writing and enacting new tax laws, especially relating to delinquent taxes, the method of collection and lowering the costs and penalties. Having watched the drainage districts form, develop and become a burden upon the land owners, he joined in passing a new law for assessing drained lands and lands within levee districts for taxation, thereby rendering a valuable service to the owners of all lands subject to such taxation. In seeking to be of further aid to the distressed land owners, Mr. Munger introduced measures seeking the aid of Reconstruction Finance Corporation for loans with which to retire, at a discount, the bonds outstanding against lands in drainage and levee districts and also had the honor of introducing and passing his Resolution memorializing Congress to give immediate aid to the drainage districts of Missouri.

Early in the regular session he assisted in passing a bill extending the time for payment of delinquent taxes without penalties and also supported a similar measure in the Special Session.

To labor legislation he devoted much time and attention, lending aid and support to many proposed changes in existing laws affecting the laboring men and women of Missouri. One of these bills which became the law was Senate Bill 87, an act prohibiting an employer from refusing an employee taking part in political meetings or conventions or from holding political office. In the past some of the large corporations of the State had denied their employees from being members of City councils, school boards and the like, much to the detriment of the communities affected, especially when the industry in such community employed great numbers of the residents. Another bill supported by Mr. Munger affected railroad employees only, which was the "Short Train Bill", seeking to limit the length of freight trains to seventy cars.

Having served in the World War from March 26th, 1917, to July 11, 1919, fourteen months overseas in the A. E. F. with an infantry regiment, a part of the 35th Division, Mr. Munger has first hand knowledge of the needs of the veterans. At the time the American Legion was being formed and until this hour he had been unselfish in his services to ex-service men. Honored by having been elected First Vice Commander of the American Legion, Department of Missouri, he had the pleasure of serving under Brigadier General E. M. Stayton, present commanding officer of the National Guard of Missouri who was then Commander of the Legion in this State. To the veteran he promises a continuance of his services, always seeking to insure the proper care and attention by hospitalization and otherwise to all ex-service men.

Every sound bill proposed which affected the farmers and tax payers of Missouri he ably supported, a policy he will follow when a member of Congress.

In the special session of the State Legislature, called last October by the Governor, he introduced House Bill 5, a sales tax measure. This bill proposed a 2% sales tax upon all retail sales, and was the last of five similar measures introduced. House Bill 5 met with the approval of Governor Park as being the best method proposed for the State collecting the needed revenue, one-third to be used to replenish a depleted State treasury. After weeks of hard work and overcoming much organized opposition, a Committee Substitute for H. B. 5 was reported out and finally passed. The substitute levied a 1/2 of one per cent tax which Mr. Munger deemed would not bring in sufficient revenue to meet the demands justifying its enactment and at the time of passage said, "This proposal of 1/2 of one per cent."

They led the editor of a country paper away to the madhouse the other day. He had written a hundred dollars worth of free publicity for a big musical entertainment in his home town and for the final writeup its sponsors brought him one of the programs which had been executed on a mimeograph machine.

All who care to can condemn the Roosevelt policies to their heart's content and at the same times the most bitter partisan is bound to acknowledge that many families would have gone hungry if they hadn't been in effect.

It seems strange that a fellow will pull off some stunts in his home town that cause heart aches and embarrassment to his family. Why don't they go to some foreign place where their trifling tricks will not reach home?

Chickie Jewell, in the Veterans' Hospital at Memphis, is reported to be getting along fairly well and hopes to be able to return home around the first of July and become active in his campaign for the nomination for constable of Richland Township.

By Minnie Sayers Smith
Washington, a veritable dream city, and rightly named the City of Magnificent Distances. The only capital in the world planned and constructed for that special purpose. One of the most beautiful cities in the world, owes its picturesque and spacious arrangement to the vision of the grand man for whom it was named, George Washington, who engaged Major L'Enfant, the skillful French engineer, to design and plan it. The numbered streets run north and south. The lettered streets east and west cross them diagonally, intersected at intervals by squares or circles, named for the general whose statue it holds. This break in the continuity is very confusing to strangers.

Pennsylvania Avenue, once an almost impassable mud shambles, but now the most famous thoroughfare in the country, passes the White House, and twining at the Treasury Building, gives an unbroken vista to the Capitol, a mile and a half away, being the official route for all parades in peace and war.

The capitol is one of the largest buildings in the world as well as one of the most imposing. It occupies a commanding position on a high elevation, with extensive terraces on the west and a broad plaza on the east. Its stateliness is increased at night, when the dome is lighted, which appears as a great jeweled crown.

Entering the Rotunda, through the great bronze doors in the center of the building on the east front the grandeur of the building is at once apparent. On the walls hang eight large historical paintings concerning each of which your correspondent made notes, and the beautiful fresco of the Dome is also historic. Just below is the marvelous frescoed frieze, in self tones, on historic subjects and so wonderfully painted by the great artist, Brumidi, that it is almost impossible to believe it is not a bas relief. He died when it was about half finished. It was completed by his assistant and a third artist painted an isolated panel which shows by contrast, the remarkable skill of Brumidi, who had restored some of Raphael's work in the Vatican. Statuary Hall is filled with outstanding figures of the different States, two from each State. Some new arrangement must be made to relieve the great pressure upon the floor.

The Supreme Court room, into which the Chief Justice and the associate Justices, file at exactly 12 noon at the same hour the session open in the Senate Chamber and Hall of Representatives, in the two wings which may be observed by visitors in the galleries.

This court room impressed your correspondent most of anything in the building. She could vision Webster and Clay and other noted personages, and imagine it possible to hear their resonant tones which might easily have filled the room. Along the corridors are statues of illustrious and prominent men. Half way up the stairway of the House wing, is the famous painting of Lincoln and his War Cabinet with the emancipation proclamation, the original of which, your correspondent had the pleasure of viewing in the Lincoln Museum formerly known as Fords Theatre. Facing the Plaza on the east front the inaugural exercises and other events of national importance take place, and beneath the terraces, and immediately underneath the huge fountain and basin is the garage in which the cars of the Senators and Congressmen are kept.

On my first visit to the capitol, I was escorted by Miss Blanton, who piloted me through the underground passage and to my great delight aboard the small train which is used for that purpose, after being lifted to the second floor she began immediately pointing out distinguished personages, Daniel Reed of New York, Casper of Kansas, Vice-President Garner.

In search of her Senator, we entered, a rare privilege, the office of Mr. Halsey, Secretary of the Senate, who presides in Vice-President Garner's absence from the Senate. Here we saw Senator Pat Harrison and Mr. Halsey, to whom I was introduced. Our purpose here was her request of the former to call Frances Perkins on a matter of importance. We then lunched in the dining room for members of the Senate only, where there were pointed out to me, Republican Roscoe Patterson of Missouri, Senator Fess, Ohio, Barbour of N. J., former Secretary of Labor Davis, Mrs. Caraway, Sen. Lonerger of Connecticut, Omahoney of Wyoming, Ashhurst, Arizona, Mrs. George of Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Whitesides, the former of whom I met who is secretary to Mrs. Caraway; Thos. Connally of Texas, and others. After lunch, we entered the Senate Chamber, where I heard the Blind Senator Gore render an impressive speech. His crown of white hair and distinguished bearing making it all the more so. On my second visit to the capitol, escorted by Congressman Browning of Tennessee, and my daughter, Helen, we lunched in the dining room for Members only, of the House of Representatives. Escorted to the President's room, an oval arrangement done in red, with huge mirrors and paintings, with frescoed ceiling, where one on the Madonna order follows you with her eyes wherever you stand. Then the Vice-President's room, where on one wall was a small mirror with gold enamel frame less than a yard long, about 18 inches tall, which Dolly Madison ordered. The bill of $40 was paid by the one in authority, who afterward was called upon the Senate floor and severely lectured for having spent so extravagant a sum for a mirror. Here also Mr. Compton, who has charge of the office, the Vice-President being absent, presented me with some blank permit cards from Mr. Garner's desk as souvenirs and also a pen point, gold, from the stock which he refurnished with a new one. Am still wondering just what bills were signed with this pen point.

We then went into the Hall of Representatives, where the session was opened by the chaplain offering prayer and minutes read. Then a heated debate by Black of New York and others. There I saw Bryan's secretary, Howard, noted for imitating his famous employment dress and walk, DePriest, the colored representative, who objected to colored employees not being allowed in the restaurant for members only, J. Ham Lewis and others.

The ceilings of the different corridors are pictured with the fruits of science and invention.

In Statuary Hall, a guide at one time had us collect around a certain metal plate in the floor, leaving there, he went some distance, whispering. The delegation smiled their approval. They had heard wonderful acoustics.

Here I met a friend of Bennett Clark and Tuck Milligan, the latter of whom is now running for Senator from Missouri. Their friend was Robert Prespin, formerly employed in the Stationery Department in the House office building.

Knowing that editors are human beings, and appreciate not being imposed upon, I shall postpone the account of a visit to Mt. Vernon until later.

Rattlesnake Eats Heartily

A four-foot rattlesnake which had evidently a short time before feasted on two full-grown squirrels was shot and killed recently by Ben Brinkopf, a farmer living near Jackson. As he watched four squirrels in a mulberry tree while he was out hunting, Brinkopf made the frightening discovery that he was standing within a few feet of a rattler. After he had killed the snake, he examined it, because he was curious that it had such a large girth. Inside he found the two whole squirrels.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

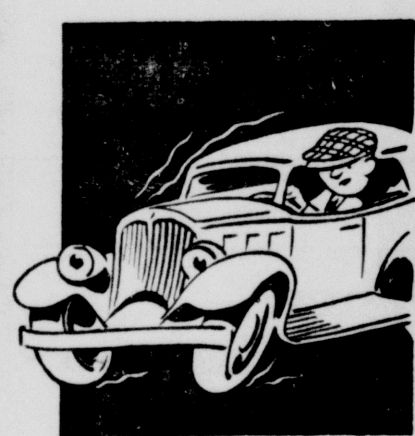

Mrs. Mae West, of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 pounds until taking one box of Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at White's or Heisserer's or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts four weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

NOTHING STILTED ABOUT WHITE HOUSE PARTIES THESE DAYS

By Foust Roper
Washington, June 6.—“What,” inquires the Brunette, “does one say when one meets Mrs. Roosevelt?”

“I don’t know,” I reply.
The Brunette and I are in a long line of guests ascending the stairs to the East Room of the White House.

The event is a reception for members of the press, their wives, girl friends and husbands and beaux (there are some fifty women writers here).

But it is so easy. Mrs. Roosevelt smiles and any self-consciousness we small-towners may have, fades away. We say, “How do you do,” as we shake hands and move on to meet Mrs. Garner.

A New York orchestra is already throbbing out “Love Thy Neighbor,” and after being greeted by the First and Second Ladies, the Brunette and I have a go at dancing.

Mr. Roosevelt Present
It is understood his duties will prevent Mr. Roosevelt from attending, and the Brunette and I swing around to the south end of the crystal-chandeliered East Room before she suddenly tugs at my sleeve and exclaims: “There he is! Oh, isn’t he fine looking?”

I turn, and sitting there in a large arm chair, ladies and gentlemen, is this man who has more charm than Clark Gable and Dick Powell combined.

We rejoin the receiving line in no time. “Good evening, Mr. President,” and though I am but one of 1400 guests, he makes me feel as if I am No. 1 as he smiles, gives a warm hand-clasp and says, “It’s good to see you.”

Feminine Tact
Soon after the Brunette and I dance by with her back to him. “Don’t stare,” she corrects me. So we turn and then I happen to glance at her. She is looking holes through him!

So we soak in the smooth music and stroll through the great first house of the land. We sit awhile in the Red, Blue and Green rooms. We drift out on the south portico where there are little tables on which are cigarettes and ash trays. At various spots are massive silver urns of ice water.

He’s Franklin To Her
Some special Irish numbers are given by local singers, and as the program ends, Mrs. Roosevelt takes the platform. The president is at the other end of the room. “Franklin,” she addresses him, and then thanks the entertainers.

That particularly thrills me—that the president is still just “Franklin” to her. And what a lovely person she is herself; They are a great husband-and-wife team, these Roosevelts!

Aquatic Gem
We go downstairs—much against the Brunette’s desire, so afraid is she we will make a break—and I ask about the swimming pool. Certainly we may see it, and a servant shows the way. With white tile sides and bottom, its water gleams like a huge green jewel. Bamboo furniture and palms are along the sides and on the wall is a clock—the sole reminder of work and duty.

Returning to the upper floor, we find refreshments being served in the state dining room. From a table thirty feet long, negroes are providing the guests with ice cream from heavy silver bowls. This richly paneled room is one of the most beautiful of all and tonight candles and flowers add to its splendor.

‘Let ‘Em Eat Cake’
There are a dozen kinds of cake on the table, supplemented with salted nuts and bon-bons. We receive a plate of ice cream and make our own selections of the accompaniments. And, of course, there is coffee.

So the Brunette and I return to the big East Room with its gold furniture and the gold piano and the famous portrait of Washington which Dolly Madison saved during the War of 1812. We dance again.

There is nothing stiff or stuffy or stilted. We are having just a natural, unforced good time at the White House!

Miscellany

What does one wear to the White House? Our host and hostess, mindful of their guests’ comfort on a warm evening, have decreed informal dress—“informal” meaning wear what you please. Most of the women are in evening gowns, while among the males linen suits brush against tail coats. Mrs. Roosevelt wears a white chiffon with diamond clasps. The president has on a blue business suit with white shirt and blue bow tie. Son Elliott, visiting his parents, is in brown. Most of the correspondents have elected to wear blue coats and white flannels.

The Brunette is all atwitter the entire evening—although, I confess, no more so than I. Not until noon did I learn an unmarried writer might bring a date. So I called her, and she is so excited she goes downtown and buys a rose, lace evening gown.

Two cards are enclosed with each White House invitation. One is for display on the windshield of one’s car to secure entrance to the grounds, and the other is produced at the door. One enters the building at the end of the east wing and passes down a long corridor to the cloak room, where a small army of servants stands ready to take hats and wraps.

The White House is all ablaze with light as our cab swings up Pennsylvania avenue and it is difficult, somehow, to realize we have been the guests of the Roosevelts. The excitement over, the Brunette slumps on the seat. “Wasn’t the food delicious?” she irrelevantly asked.

“Well,” I reply. “Mrs. Roosevelt sure is a good cook!”

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Schneider and Mrs. S. S. Cashdollar of Flint, Mich., are here visiting the former’s sister and the latter’s daughter, Mrs. C. A. Bradshaw and family.

No American industry excites more curiosity than the Ford Motor Company. What Mr. Ford makes or loses is mostly guess and what he proposes to do is not known until he announces what he has done. Based on a statement of condition filed with the Massachusetts commissioner of corporations, it is estimated that Ford finished the year with a deficit of $3,323,000 against a deficit of $79,247,000 in 1932. The last profit, it is stated, was in 1930, when earnings were $44,460,000. Persons frequently ask why Ford, with all his millions, continues to struggle, work and bend all his energies toward improvement and advancement. What he loses is a drop in the bucket and what he makes only adds to the millions he has and cannot spend. Few realize the tremendous responsibility men like Ford feel to their employees. A gigantic industry, with thousands of dependents, lays a heavy hand of obligation upon heads of industries which must keep going, ever advancing long after every material ambition has been satisfied, that jobs and opportunity for others to earn a livelihood may be provided. Loyalty of employees to employers is often a subject of comment, but loyalty of employers to employees is equally pronounced.—Commercial Appeal.

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR COUNTY W. C. T. U. MEET

Mrs. Louise Van Lund of St. Louis, treasurer of the Missouri W. C. T. U. organization, will be the speaker for the day at the twenty-second annual convention of members of the Scott County Woman's Christian Temperance Union which will be held at the First Baptist church here Monday. In addition to delivering an address at the afternoon session, Mrs. Van Lund will lead a discussion on "State Plans and Membership" in the morning.

Other features of the one-day meeting will include a talk on the "Necessity of Temperance Education" by Mrs. Clyde Poe of Oran, a memorial service led by Mrs. Ruby Graham of Blodgett, election of officers, reports of county directors, and a gold medal declamation contest under the direction of Mrs. Birdie Fox of Sikeston.

Entrants in this contest, all of whom have previously won silver medal competitions, are Esther Duncan, Nannie Lee Myers, Gwendolyn Kirk, Ruth Hollingsworth, Shirley Jean Smith, and a young woman from Morley.

The following county directors will report on their activities during the year: Mrs. Stella Thomas of Sikeston—Scientific Temperance Instruction; Mrs. Nellie Mount of Sikeston—Christian Citizenship; Mrs. Della Poe of Oran—Sunday Schools and Temperance; Mrs. J. A. O'Hara of Sikeston—Bible in Public Schools; Mrs. J. F. Nunnelee of Blodgett—Publicity; Mrs. Birdie Fox of Sikeston—Medal Contest; Mrs. Dora E. Bailey of Blodgett—Parliamentary Usage; Miss Sadie Emory of Sikeston—Evangelism and Sabbath Observance; Mrs. Robert Leslie of Morley—Social Meetings and Red Letter Days; Mrs. Belle Morrison of Sikeston—Flower Mission.

After the convention is called to order at 9:30 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Ella Clemson of Oran, members present will sing "Onward Christian Soldiers". Devotions will be led by the Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here, and a welcome address will be given by Mrs. J. A. O'Hara and a response by Mrs. U. G. Ragains of Morley.

Following the reports of county officers and officials of local unions and the discussion led by Mrs. Van Lund, Miss Lula Ruth Ragains of Morley will play a violin solo. The morning session will be closed with noon-tide paper and announcements.

When the women reconvene at 1:30 o'clock, they will sing "Faith of Our Fathers" and will be led in devotions by the Rev. E. H. Orear.

The regular meeting of the W. B. A. was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall Monday night, June 11. At this meeting President Mrs. H. F. Cole tendered her resignation which was sorrowfully accepted. Mrs. Cole is leaving the city for Tennessee, where she will make her home. Mrs. Clarence Marshall, vice president, will fill the vacancy for the remainder of the year. Also at this meeting Mrs. Charles Bethune was elected vice president and will also act as press correspondent until the return of Mrs. Lawson Patterson, who is ill.

At the close of the meeting all members present went to Dudley's for a brief farewell party for Mrs. Cole. It is with deep regret that the Review loses Mrs. Cole as she has been a loyal president for the last two terms. The entire Review joins in wishing her much happiness in her new home.

At the next regular meeting, Mrs. Frank Moody, leader of Group No. 3, will be in charge of the entertainment, as this will be social night.

David Blanton arrived in Sikeston Tuesday night from Cambridge, Mass., where he had been attending the law school of Harvard University. He expects to take the bar examination in Jefferson City, June 25, 26 and 27.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilbur had as their guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Yeakey and small son and daughter of Morehouse, Mrs. W. N. Summers, Mrs. W. N. Summers, Jr., and Miss Ellenora Summers of Canolou, the occasion being a dinner in honor of Mr. Wilbur's sister, Mrs. R. D. Baker, of Washington, D. C.

Quality Meals

Sikeston, Mo., June 15

DEAR FRIENDS:

We have been in the Meat Retailing business in Sikeston for many years and we have been fair to our customers and they have been fair to us. We have not lost but very little money on account of extending credit in comparison with the volume of business done. But the fact that we have ALWAYS MET CASH and CARRY COMPETITION PRICES at all times--has not always been fair to our pocket-book. Since we feel that we have treated you fair at all times by giving you lowest prices, good quality, honest weight, good service--now we are asking you to consider treating us fair by continuing to patronize us as before--and PAY CASH ON DELIVERY of each order, as other cash stores require of you. We are taking this step for the protection of our business on account of having two or three jolts of bad luck during the past six months. Our friendship and our service to you will still continue 100%. We will loan you money if we have it--but we must compete with other cash stores and to do so we must ask for cash on each order just as they do. Remember--Our delivery service will continue as usual. The only change is that we ask you pay cash for each order. This will go into effect Sunday, June 17.

Yours for service,
J. R. SELLARDS

Mrs. C. M. Harris, Phone 581, Local Reporter

Miss Mayme Jean Wilbur, Miss Ellenora Summers and Elmer Poage spent Sunday in Naylor, where the young people conducted a Christian Endeavor meeting. Mr. Poage is President of the Southeast District of Christian Endeavor and Miss Wilbur is the Secretary of that District.

Mrs. R. D. Baker of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting her brother, J. H. Wilbur and family of this city, returned to her home in Washington Monday night after a month's visit here.

Miss Emmi Dodge Lutz, of Charleston, visited The Standard office Wednesday afternoon. We found her to be a very charming Miss.

Miss Louise Chandler, of Lutesville, is the guest of Miss Mary Elizabeth Nolan on North Kingshighway.

Harry Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Young, has returned home from Washington University, St. Louis, where he was recently initiated into Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Slack were called to Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday evening by the death of a relative. They expect to return to Sikeston, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Old and baby of Redondo Beach, Calif., are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Ella Old.

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Layton of Commerce visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Layton here, and sister, Mrs. J. O. Bebout, at Bertrand on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Those who attended the funeral of Mr. Pate held yesterday afternoon in Charleston, were: Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Mrs. W. W. Lankford, Miss Freda Reese, Mrs. Dean Marshall, Mrs. C. M. Harris, Mrs. Wm. Carson, Mrs. Alfred Taylor, Mrs. Ben Morrison, Mrs. W. O. Scott and Mrs. Guy Carter. Mr. Pate was the father of Mrs. L. T. Davey of this city. Services were held at the home of his son, Less Pate, at 3 o'clock. Burial was in the Charleston cemetery.

A letter received yesterday morning by the writer from Mrs. A. B. Proffer at Dexter stated that Mr. Proffer was very low at the time of writing, which was June 13. Mr. and Mrs. Proffer were former residents of Sikeston and their many friends here regret to hear of his serious illness.

Barney Forrester and daughter, Mary Ann, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Layton and Mrs. Lizzie Ferrell will go to St. Louis, Sunday, to visit with the latter's daughter, Mrs. Roy Johnson and Mr. Johnson. While there, they will also visit with Mrs. Forrester, at the Barnes Hospital.

Late reports from Mrs. Lawson Patterson, are that she is still improving. Mrs. Patterson is a patient at the St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Sikeston Standard, $2.00 a year.

The Fidelis class of the First Baptist church held its meeting, Monday night, at the home of Mrs. Gene Kindred, with Mrs. Clyde Healy, assistant hostess. Seventeen members were present. A business meeting was held and presided over by the president, Mrs. Lynn Ancell. It was decided to hold a pot-luck supper at the church on June 25. At the social hour, the birth anniversary of J. C. Healy, son of Mrs. Healy, was celebrated. Eleven children of the members were present. The next meeting of the class will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Watson and Mrs. Lynn Ancell will be assistant hostess.

rate to one per cent tonight then this additional tax will serve its purpose and can be at an end early in 1935. To pass the substitute as it is, in my opinion, means that the citizens of Missouri will be forced not only to stand a continuance of this burden, but have the rate more than doubled in order to pay deficiencies. This prediction has come true according to the latest statement from State Auditor Smith, who recently stated that not more than $300,000 per month is being received from this source and that such sum is not sufficient to meet the State's needs for new revenue, planned to be procured from this source.

Following the leadership of President Roosevelt, he joined in seeking to enact laws permitting municipalities without a bond issue, to construct and operate utility plants to serve their own communities, to be paid for out of the proceeds earned. Always an advocate for the rights of the individual citizen, Mr. Munger guarded them at every opportunity, and with a small group in the House finally succeeded in securing adequate appropriation for the continuance of the Public Service Commission in order that necessary regulation of public utilities in Missouri might be continued.

His party pledges were kept by him. Voting to abolish many needless boards and bureaus, consolidating others, reducing the number of employees of the State, instituting the Executive Budget and setting up the State Purchasing Office, and other like measures, he made a record as a Legislator of ability and integrity.

Mr. Munger was born at Van Buren, Carter County, Missouri, January 1, 1896. His boyhood was spent at Dexter, Stoddard county, where he was educated in the Public and High Schools. Prior to his service in the army, he supported himself as a printer and newspaper writer, earning his way through two years of night law school, which education he finished in Chicago after the war and after he had married Miss Ruth Humphreys, then of Jackson, daughter of Rev. Wm. A. Humphreys, now of Cape Girardeau, a retired Methodist minister. Beginning the practice of his profession at Bloomfield, 1923, with his father, H. Geo. Munger, in 1928 he removed to Chaffee, where he has since resided.

Car Owners in Sikeston Can Now Ask For and Get Genuine Alemiteing

We are Alemite Lubrication Specialists in Sikeston—ready to show you the difference between ordinary "greasing" and genuine Alemiteing.

It is just as easy and far less expensive today to get thorough, scientific lubrication for your car—genuine Alemiteing—as it is to have just "some grease" put in. In Sikeston we are equipped to give Alemite Specialized Lubrication. It is not difficult to find and finding us will pay you many times over in smoother, quieter car performance, pickup, get-away.

Genuine Alemiteing is proper lubrication—the use of special Alemite Lubricants scientifically developed by the makers of the Alemite Lubrication System on your car—an entirely different service from just using "some grease".

This far more satisfactory service is offered only by Alemite Labrication Specialists. We use Alemite Service Equipment and these specially developed Alemite Lubricants for each of the special needs in your car chassis: A particular lubricant for differential and transmission; a fibrous clinging type for universal joints; a pure, solidified oil for chassis bearings; other special genuine Alemite Lubricants for wheel bearings, steering gear, water pump, springs, shackles.

And each car is Alemite-ed according to its manufacturers' own specifications. Thus not a point can be overlooked—later to cause wear and repairs!

Naturally, you get better results from Alemiteing—results that you can see and feel—in an improved car performance and reduced operating expense.

Do not wait for costly repair bills to teach you the difference between genuine Alemiteing and the haphazard use of "some grease". Avoid unnecessary repairs and make sure your car gives you all its fine performance and freedom from trouble. A safe, sure way of doing this is to ask for and get genuine Alemiteing.

Phone 229 we will call for and deliver your car.

RABBIT WINS BY KNOCKOUT

A fight which lasted several minutes ended in the murder Tuesday of a three-foot copperhead. The slayer, a large white pet rabbit, resident of a wire-front box in a yard at Potosi, was exonerated when a witness testified that he killed in self-defense.

The vicious battle began when the snake, a poisonous one, attempted to gain entrance to the rabbit's house from the front. When he was approximately half-way through the wire netting the pet rose to defend his dwelling and started vigorously to pound the snake with his hind feet.

The copperhead, probably somewhat amazed and certainly in an embarrassing position, with half his body outside and the other in, was unable to strike his opponent. It did, however, attempt to extricate itself from the rabbit long enough, presumably, to haul the rest of its body into the box.

Its supposed wish was finally granted when at last it slipped thru the wire and lay, quite dead, coiled at the feet of its slayer.

Mrs. E. C. Inman and Mary Frances and Don Litzelfelner of Cape Girardeau, visited several days here this week with their sister and aunt, Mrs. L. R. Burns and family.

The following spent Tuesday at Big Springs, near Van Buren: Mrs. A. J. Moore, Miss Henrietta Moore, Mrs. John Powell, Miss Ruth Ward Powell, Mrs. W. W. Hinchey, Mrs. L. M. Stallcup, Miss Lynnette Stallcup, Mrs. E. C. Matthews, Edward Matthews, Miss Jean Fairbanks of Chicago and Miss Lillian Gail Applegate of Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Luther Spradling and Mrs. Martin Wagner of Jackson visited Monday with Mrs. Birch Moll. Mr. Wagner also accompanied them here and attended the Bakers meeting.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 36th Year in Southeast Missouri

Thanks, Southeast Missourians

Our bookkeeper has just furnished a memo to the effect that sales up to June 1st increased over 100% as compared to the same period last year. Other Sikeston merchants can doubtless show even larger gains. It all goes to show that the New Deal has not been bad for merchants who are willing to work while they wait. Most people like to trade at an up and coming store. Ours is that sort.

The Acid Test

If electric refrigerators have any weak points they usually develop when Old "Sol" begins beating down to about 100 in the shade for days in succession. Frigidaire owners will then discover how valuable it is to have double cylinder equipment which has the power to create 100% refrigeration in spite of high temperature. Play safe by choosing a Frigidaire '34.

Still They Come

Several new bedroom outfits were unpacked today, among them another of the striking modernistic sets which was so much admired last week by shoppers. This shipment contains distinctly different types of furniture from that shown heretofore in Sikeston. We should like to have your opinion of them.

No Exaggerations

Our salesmen are cautioned against wild claims of superiority, "miracle" merchandising and other forms of mere "wind work". We leave that sort of propaganda to those who have not yet learned it does them more harm than good—and in time—they will learn all right. We do claim, however, that for 36 years ENERGY and INDUSTRY in the store ranks have not been allowed to go stale, nor will that happen in the future if we keep our right mind.

Our floor covering stock is varied at this time. Among other additions are several rolls of pretty inlaid linoleums and twelve foot print linoleum patterns. No extra charge is made for laying in ordinary form.

SIKESTON GOLFERS LOSE MATCH BY CLOSE SCORE

The Blytheville Country Club team—34 strong—came up to Sikeston Sunday and took the local boys into camp by about the narrowest margin imaginable—just one point. Blytheville brought 34 players but the locals were only able to match 32 of them, as several of the local players were out of the city. As it was, the local club had to invite a number of golfers to compete in their first match tournament. The first twenty-five golfers on the local club, who have been playing regularly, easily took the Blytheville opposition into camp. Up to the last foursome even, it looked like the locals would win. With three foursomes left, but these three foursomes left points while winning but on. This is the first loss of the local club this year, but does not count on the Southeast Missouri League schedule as Blytheville is not a member of the Missouri League. Blytheville has not lost a match this year. Leo Litzenech of Blytheville was low scorer Sunday with a 71. His 31 for the last round was the best golf played on the local course in tournament play. Thirty-one is four strokes under par for the local course. Glen Bayer of the Sikeston Club, who is home from school, and who was Captain of the University of Missouri team this year, was low shooter for the Sikeston club with a 72. Lyman Bowman, Orville Lumsden and Sonny Lee with 76s were next in line. Scores for the most part were high—than usual because of the condition of the local sand greens caused by rains Saturday night and morning. points for the matches: are named

SEMO BAKERS MOVE TO DISCONTINUE 5c BREAD

Members of the Southeast Missouri Bakers' Association operating south of New Madrid will stop making five-cent loaves of bread, beginning Monday, it was decided at a meeting of the group held here at the Marshall Hotel Tuesday morning. Contemplating a similar move, members of the organization who live in this immediate trade territory, authorized Frank G. Yungenwaller, St. Louis, secretary of the Missouri Bakers' Association, to confer with chain grocery store executives in an effort to get them to co-operate to make this change possible here. At Tuesday's meeting, Mr. Yungenwaller, who, with L. A. Pickard, Kennett, president of the group, led a round-table discussion, stated that the Bakers' Council recently rejected the baker's code, signed May 29 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, because of certain provisions embodied in it.

Chief among the objections, he said, were articles providing for a ninety-day trial period during which General Hugh Johnson and a board composed of a member of the American Federation of Labor, a representative of consumers, and a neutral man would study the conditions confronting bakers; and fear that the labor group would attempt to shorten further the present retail bakers' 48-hour week, and the wholesale one of 40 hour. The Bakers' Council also desires to have the code become effective on July 16 instead of next Monday, as was originally provided. The bakers, Mr. Yungenwaller stated, represent the first large industry which has rejected a proposed code. He thinks that difficulties will be settled, however, and a revised code accepted. Those present at the meeting generally agreed that men engaged in their business are unable to absorb the increase in prices of commodities used in making bakery goods without raising their own prices. By discontinuing the five-cent loaf and making instead a twelve-ounce loaf, wholesaling for 6 cents and retailing for 8, and a sixteen-ounce loaf, for 8 and 10 cents, they believe they will have

HOMEOMING WEEK PICNIC AND BARBECUE

Morehouse, June 14.—Plans for a homecoming for former residents of Morehouse, to be sponsored by the city, were made at a meeting of interested citizens Monday evening at the City Hall. The event, to take place the first week in August, will be made up of an old-fashioned picnic and barbecue, combined with various forms of home-talent entertainment, and it is anticipated that a large number of former residents will return to visit the town and renew old acquaintances. It is planned to send an invitation to every family which formerly lived in Morehouse, if it is possible to find their present addresses. Friends and relatives are requested to assist the committee on invitations, of which Mrs. Lillian Grossman is chairman, in making up a complete list of families and individuals who have moved away, so that all may be invited to return.

Direction of the homecoming is under the supervision of Alderman J. C. Reynolds, originator of the idea of giving the reunion, and other members of the board of aldermen. The next meeting to promote the affair will be held at the City Hall Monday evening, June 18, when reports of various committees will be heard. All interested persons are invited to attend.

A New York man owning 71 pairs of trousers died in 1880 and instructed the executor of his will to auction off the trousers without their being examined, and only one pair to a person. His wishes were carried out and the purchaser of each pair of trousers found $100 sewn in a cuff. A bass weighing 6 1/2 pounds was caught in the Mexico Country Club Lake last week by Ralph Knox. It was the largest ever caught in the lake.

It has been estimated that approximately 8,500,000 persons in the United States are injured at work or play annually. There are ten times as many barbers and hairdressers in the United States today as there were in 1850.

DEVILED SANDWICHES

They satisfy.
1 cup deviled ham
4 hard-cooked eggs
1-2 cup nut meats
Salad dressing
pepper - salt
Chop eggs and nut meats fine.

Add deviled ham and salad dressing. Season with pepper and paprika as desired and add salt cautiously because of the saltiness of the ham. Add sufficient salad dressing to make a good filling consistency and spread on white or whole wheat bread.

UNUSUAL SETTLEMENT FOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

Because Billy Monroe Demaris, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Estel Demaris, who was almost instantly killed May 3 when he was struck by a local Frisco freight train coming south into Sikeston, breathed three or four times before he died, the Prudential Insurance Company paid half the face value of a policy, held by the child's father, for the loss of Billy's leg.

Soon after the accident the company paid the full face value of the policy for Billy's death. When he discovered that the child had lived a few moments after his left leg was severed by the train, P. H. Williams, Cairo, assistant company superintendent for this district, sent in papers showing the boy had been alive after he lost a limb. The home office replied with a settlement for half the policy's value, a sum fixed for such cases by the terms of the agreement.

Rev. D. D. Ellis, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, left Tuesday for Parma, where he will assist the Rev. J. E. Traves in a two weeks' revival meeting. He will be here Sunday, however, to conduct services here.

QUICKER AND CHEAPER CHECK ON CARS

Motorists who travel the roads and highways of Missouri with other than the proper license plates on their automobiles will do so at an extra hazard in the future, the State Highway Patrol, headed by Colonel B. M. Casteel, having equipped each of its cars with an Auto Registration Directory of Missouri, including Johnson and Wyandotte Counties, Kansas.

The directory gives the make of every car, the name and address of its owner, the license and motor numbers, etc. A patrolman can instantly ascertain the status of any car which comes under his suspicion, at the same time obviating time and expense entailed by wiring or calling headquarters.

Personal News of Sikeston

By Mrs. C. M. Harris, Phone 581

Lloyd Taylor of Dexter, who attended the Bakers' meeting here Monday, also visited with his aunt, Mrs. Sallie Swanagon, and family while in this city.

The Royal Neighbor meeting announced for this afternoon has been postponed until the regular time, which will be next Friday afternoon, June 22. The purpose of the meeting is to elect a new orator. The juveniles will also hold their meeting at the close of the adult session.

Jas. A. Mocabee and Bill Baker will return today from Columbia, where they have been the past two weeks taking a course in agriculture at the Missouri University.

Mrs. L. R. Burns and sons, Bob and Peter, went to Cape Girardeau Thursday, where the latter son will enter the Southeast Missouri Hospital for treatment. Mrs. Burns and Bob will remain in that city and visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Daugherty.

News Wednesday from Mrs. Barney Forrester, a patient at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, was that she was still improving.

Mrs. Deborah Hirschberg and son, Jene, Mrs. Beulah Torset and son, Bobbie, of Chicago, visited here the latter part of the week with the former's son, Jean Hirschberg, and family. Mrs. Torset is a sister of Mr. Hirschberg.

Mrs. Jas. A. Mocabee, Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Mrs. Sharron Pharris and son, Jimmie, and Mrs. Fred Cross of McComb, Miss., will go to Dexter today (Friday) to visit Mrs. Oscar Pharris. Mrs. Mocabee and Mrs. Pharris and son will return home that afternoon, but Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Cross will remain for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. French, 536 South Ellis, had as guests Sunday, Mrs. Arabella Edmondson of Sikeston and granddaughters, Etta Smith and Margie Lee Edmondson of Monroe, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Edmondson of Sikeston—Cape Missourian.

Mrs. Lon Nall went to St. Louis Wednesday afternoon, for a ten days' visit with her sisters and brother, Mrs. Carl Brooks, Mrs. John Hinchey and L. T. Powers.

J. H. Tyer is again at the store, after recent illness of second attack of appendicitis.

The annual Flower Mission Day was observed Wednesday afternoon by members of the local W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Harvey Morrison on Moore avenue. Mrs. F. E. Mount was leader. Roll call was responded by each member giving a verse pertaining to a flower. The poem, "Trees", was given by Miss Sadie Emory, and the story of the life of Jennie Casseday, by Mrs. John Fox. The membership campaign to date has netted the Union 24 new members. Mrs. Jno. A. O'Hara and Mrs. Nell Hart are the Captains, and at this time Mrs. O'Hara's side was ahead. During the social hour, a smiling contest was enjoyed by members and won by Mrs. J. L. Tanner and Mrs. M. J. Thomas, followed by a picnic supper eaten on the lawn. A view of the garden at the Morrison home was enjoyed and later flowers were taken to shut-ins. One visitor, Mrs. River Tanner, was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ide P. Trotter and son and Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Trotter and son attended a reunion of the Trotter family at Dexter, Sunday.

IMOGENE WATKINS WINS FIRST PRIZE AT MALONE

Imogene Watkins, impersonating Ruby Keeler, was awarded first prize for the best imitation of a movie star at a Hollywood premiere staged Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Malone Theatre.

Shirley Shainberg as Baby Rose Marie was given second place, and Margaret Fisher as Zasu Pitts and Katherine Hepburn, was adjudged third best. As rewards for their impersonations, these young women were given cash prizes.

Winners of fourth place and honorable mentions were presented a week's pass to the Malone Theatre. As Myrna Loy, Adagene Bowman was awarded fourth place. Honorable mentions were given to Billy Collins as Mickey McGuire and Catherine Ann Cook as Mitzi Green.

Several Sikestonians attend Eastern Star meeting in Charleston

Several Sikeston residents went to Charleston Wednesday evening to attend a meeting of members of the fiftieth district which was called for the official visit of the worthy grand matron of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Candace Green of Dexter, and other grand officers. It was held at 8 o'clock at the Masonic temple.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Lewis, Mrs. S. E. Humphreys, Mrs. B. L. McMullin, Mrs. A. E. Shankle, Mrs. Wade Shankle, Mrs. F. E. Mount, Mrs. H. E. Dudley, Mrs. Jno. Fox, Mrs. Ralph Harper and Mrs. E. M. Crooks.

Among the other grand officers who were present at the meeting were Mrs. Jessie Lamb Townsend of Kansas City, grand chaplain; Mrs. Edith Hutton of St. Louis, grand Ruth; Mrs. Ida Belle McCoy of Poplar Bluff, grand Martha; and Mrs. Alice Shulz of Cape Girardeau, grand Electa.

FOR RENT—Two 2-room, modern furnished apts.—Mrs. Maud Sitzes. Phone 558w. tr-73.

Humans today live under more or less artificial conditions, such as closed houses, drive closed cars, wear lot of clothing, etc. These conditions often disturb nature's balance. The ultra violet rays of the sun, for instance, produce in the body a substance called Vitamin D. This vitamin affects the structure and strength of the bones and teeth. An insufficiency of Vitamin D leads to a disease called rickets, evidenced often by weak teeth which decay easily, or bowed legs, knock knees, etc. It is estimated that more than 60 per cent of the babies in this country are born with some evidence of rickets and more than 95 per cent of the school have some tooth decay.

In the search for correctives, many substitutes were found. Among such, was a process which used ultra violet rays upon foods as the sun acts upon our bodies. This process is called "Irradiation". Of course prevention of "rickets" is the aim of Irradiation, rather than cure. It is of interest to know that one of the daily food items, "milk" is now being irradiated and is available at all grocery stores.

NEGROES CAUGHT BY POSSE OF OFFICERS

Five negroes were caught and returned to the Scott County jail a Benton Wednesday evening by officers who assembled after they were given a tip to stop the quintet by a Benton filling station attendant.

From the negroes' automobile, which was halted on Highway 61 near the Bloomfield road, west of Cape Girardeau, were taken a leaden dollar and a shotgun. Some of them, at least, will face charges of trying to pass spurious money to the station attendant, who called the sheriff's office after the negroes had attempted to pay for gasoline with the lead coin, and had driven off when they did pay for it with legitimate money.

Among the officers who answered a call from Deputy Sheriff Forrest Tisdell, were Troopers Percy R. Little and John Tany, of the State highway patrol office here, Sheriff A. H. Hoffman, Deputy Sheriff Eugene Brunk, Police Captain Chas. Schwoer and Patrolmen John Wilson and Morris Huckstep.

Remember Sale Closes Sat. June 23rd

THE EDITOR SAYS—

In dedicating the new Postoffice Department building in Washington, Postmaster General Farley defined postal policy as an effort "to extend and improve the service; eliminate all waste and extravagance; see that no special privileges are granted; make working conditions, so far as possible, the best in the country, and require that integrity and ability be the first requirements in selection of all public servants". If all this be the case, why don't we keep country city postoffices open Saturday afternoon's to accommodate the public.

The lad who knows all about the carnivals and tent shows that comes to town informs us there are five or six scheduled for this fall—when the cotton begins to open. Hope the city will collect licenses from each of them and not remit on account of showing under the auspices of something or other.

Dr. Serena, the ex-political president of the Cape Teachers' College, has resigned the presidency of Bethany College in West Virginia. Guess he was just about as much of a wet blanket out there as he was at the Cape.

A letter received from the Missus in Washington, D. C., stated she and Mary and the kids were leaving Thursday this week for Fredericksburg, Richmond and Williamsburg, Va., and on to Atlanta, Ga. Guess she will be home in ten days, and will be glad!

Seeing the demolition of the old Southern Hotel in St. Louis brings to mind that once upon a time we had a breakfast at the famous Tony Faust restaurant that cost the Government $2.85. Them was the good old days.

Now is the time for all good men to stand by the Government. Never in the history of the Nation has any President had so much to contend with as has President Roosevelt. Except a few bitter Republicans little criticism has been uttered against his administration, and they are bound to confess that he has tried about everything to end the depression. There has been a lot of money spent for things that may make little or no show in years to come, but it has fed hungry folks and that is what counts.

Mad dog scares in many sections is causing a quarantine of all dogs. Dick Swanner was bitten by a dog Tuesday, whether mad or not, it causes terrible suspense to parents. The treatment for dog bite is painful and costly. There's no more horrible death than that caused by hydrophobia. If the dogs are not kept up some patriot ought to put out dope that will make good dogs of them.

This is to inform the readers of The Standard that it takes cash to pay postage and buy white print paper, and all who have an idea their subscription has expired are requested to call and fix the matter up. Three tons of white print paper direct from the Canadian mills cost about $170 cash on the barrel head and will last probably three months. It is the little bills that eat us up in the long run.

M. S. Murray, of Kansas City, formerly of Sikeston, was in Southeast Missouri during the week in the interest of Judge Harry S. Truman's candidacy for the United States Senate to succeed Roscoe Patterson, Republican. In speaking of Judge Truman, The Independence Examiner, his home county paper, has the following to say of him: "Missouri this year has an opportunity to get away from the two large cities and elect a country boy to the Senate. Judge Harry S. Truman of Independence, is distinctively a product of the country. He was born and reared between the plow handles on a Jackson county farm, where he lived until the World War. He went to France as a captain of Field Artillery with the Missouri and Kansas troops, and now is a Colonel in the Field Artillery Reserve. President of the National Old Trails Road, he is known from coast to coast as a good roads enthusiast. For ten years, he served as judge of Jackson county, eight years as presiding judge, spending fifty-five million dollars without a single smell of graft. He is the father of the Jackson county road system, the finest in the United States. In October, 1933, he was appointed Federal re-employment director for Missouri, resigning when he filed for the Senate. He is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Baptist church, is married and has one child".

NEW FEATURES PLANNED FOR AIRPORT DEDICATION

With the formation of plans for entertaining and accommodating the crowd of 20,000 persons who are expected to attend the municipal airport dedication ceremonies July 3 and 4, residents of Sikeston are agreeably surprised at the gigantic size of the program which is being arranged.

No expense has been spared in securing notables, entertainers and exhibitors of all kinds for a celebration which, according to members of the city board of aeronautics "will surpass anything ever seen between St. Louis and Memphis."

Chief among the features recently acquired is the Missouri National Guard unit under the direction of Major Phil Love, which was secured largely because of an air trip made to St. Louis Tuesday by Leonard McMullin, John Powell, Granville Phillips, and Hubert Boyer.

The National Guard, stationed at the Lambert flying field in St. Louis, now numbers six ships. Several which are being used for mail service are expected to be released as private companies are contracted by the federal government, before the celebration, however, so that they may accompany other planes in the unit to Sikeston. The fleet will arrive at noon July 3 and will remain here during the whole of the festival.

A second feature, perfected this week, will be an aerial wedding in which a maximum of three couples will be married in an airplane as it is flown over the field. Joe Reed, piloting a 14-passenger trimotored Ford plane belonging to the Robertson Airplane Company of St. Louis, will take the couples, witnesses, passengers and Judge Leonard McMullin into the air. Judge McMullin will perform the ceremony at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 4.

The first two persons who signify a desire to be wed in the plane will be given a free honeymoon trip to St. Louis. Any young people of Southeast Missouri who want to get married at the dedication ceremonies are requested by aeronautics board members to write or call Harry Young at Sikeston. The first three couples whose names are filed here will be participants in this novel wedding.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of July 4, from three to five pilots, carrying negroes in their planes' cockpits, will engage in an amusing race which has never been staged here before. Starting together, they will leave the field here and fly to Bertrand, circling the grain elevator before returning to Sikeston and landing.

Here, the negroes will jump from their planes and go to a designated place, where they will rapidly consume a sack of popcorn and a quart of buttermilk. Then they will rush to the ships, which will carry them again to the elevator at Bertrand and then back. The first pilot who lands his plane in Sikeston will be declared the winner.

Another stunt which will be staged later during the afternoon of July 4 is a balloon bursting contest. Singly, as many pilots as care to compete will take off in open ships while they hold in one hand 24-inch inflated balloons. When they reach an altitude of 800 feet they will release the balloons, which will rise behind and above them. Then they will turn their planes as speedily as possible and mount until they break the balloons with their propellers. The pilot completing the maneuver in the shortest length of time will win the contest.

Orders have been placed for two $500 sets of fireworks, which will be set off during the evenings of the celebration and will include bombs, skyrocket, and aerial bursting formations. In addition to these aerial displays at night, fireworks will be set off during the daytime.

At the dance, to be held at 10 o'clock on the evening of July 3 at the Armory, Reggie Ausmus and his 10-piece orchestra, which is performing this summer at Gaebler's Black and Gold Inn at Columbia and is broadcasting daily over KFRR, will be here to play.

Jimmy Doolittle, flying a Lockheed Orion plane with retractable landing gear, and Jimmie Haslip, in a Balanca, will be present to participate in the ceremonies, and efforts are still being made to secure Jimmie Faulkner, who is the first commercial pilot of Missouri and is now personal pilot for Henry L. Dougherty, head of the Cities Service Companies, as well as other notable air men.

Doolittle, it will be remembered, won national fame when he flew over the Andes mountains in South America with both legs, which had been broken the night before a contest, in casts. Haslip is holder of the west to east transcontinental record.

Plans for the style show, at which 12 young women from separate Southeast Missouri towns will parade on an improvised platform while the band of the 140th infantry of the National Guard, under the direction of Lieut. O. T. Honey of Chaffee, plays, are being completed.

In addition to these many attractions, the Royal Amusement Company, with five rides and 25 concessions, will exhibit and stunt and formation flying will be staged thruout the two days.

On display at the field will be a new monocoque plane, which will be brought here by Ernest Harper and Hubert Boyer, Sikeston distributors for the ships. Adequate arrangements have been made for accommodating the huge crowds expected at the celebration, and space has been provided at the airport for the free parking of all automobiles belonging to visitors.

Youth Killed When Car Leaves Highway

Leondice Wilkerson, 21-year-old youth of Bertrand, died at 8 o'clock Monday evening of injuries received in an automobile accident near Commerce Monday afternoon. He had suffered a skull fracture, a multiple fracture of the jaw, and numerous cuts and bruises.

As he was driving to Commerce with a companion, Wilkerson lost control of his Ford roadster when the radius rod broke. The automobile left the road and fell fifty feet to the Frisco tracks below.

When he was found, the youth's head was lying on the railroad track, his body pinned under the car. His companion, who was thrown from the machine, was not injured.

Wilkerson was taken to St. Francis hospital in Cape Girardeau at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon. He never regained consciousness.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Lair funeral home in Charleston. Burial was in the Oak Grove cemetery at Charleston. The youth is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wilkerson of Bertrand.

Steamer J. S. Has Really Good Southern Band

New Orleans is noted for its good bands. Many big bands from New York and Chicago have tried to adopt the New Orleans Syncopation—but there is something distinctive about this Southern Syncopation that is very hard to duplicate.

Captain Verne Streckfus, the Master of the J. S., selected a band for the 1934 season, which he says, is the pick of all the New Orleans Bands, for the cruise of the J. S. up the Mississippi River.

The band Captain Streckfus engaged is PIRON'S Dixie Cotton Pickers under the direction of A. J. Piron in person. Piron was the first colored leader to play an engagement at the Roseland Ballroom in New York City. He and his band also played at the De Luxe Club, now the Cotton Club in the Harlem belt in New York.

At New Orleans he has played the leading Hotels and Clubs;

namely, St. Charles Hotel, Roosevelt Hotel, New Orleans Country Club, Suburban Gardens and Tranchina's Night Club.

Piron has recorded many popular records for the Victor, Columbia and Okeh Companies.

As a composer, he is well remembered by that popular number, "I Wish I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Kate", which number bro't forth a compliment from the Prince of Wales.

During the winter a brand new level dance floor was laid on the J. S., and with the marvelous New Orleans Colored Orchestra, a rare treat is in store for the dancers in this community when the J. S. stops at Cape Girardeau to take out two excursions on Sunday, June 17th. There will be an afternoon excursion leaving Cape Girardeau at 3 p. m., and returning at 6 p. m. The moonlight excursion will leave 8:30 p. m. and return at 12 p. m.

Semo Burial Association Moves to Bank Building

The office of the Southeast Missouri Burial Association, which for several years has been maintained at the Powell Insurance Agency in West Center Street, was moved Wednesday morning into the quarters formerly occupied by officials of the People's Bank on the corner of Center and North New Madrid Streets.

There workmen have been busy cleaning the space, building a small room, and constructing a railing, behind which have been placed the equipment taken from the Powell office, as well as two desks, a filing cabinet, and an adding machine, recently purchased.

The new office for the growing concern, which now has 20,000 policy holders, was leased because John Powell, secretary-treasurer of the association, sold his interest in the business so that he could devote all of his time to matters pertaining to his insurance agency.

Miss Bernice Hagaman, who came here June 1 from Springfield, Mo., to serve as secretary of the organization, will be assisted in the office by Miss Jo Smith. C. C.

White is president and treasurer, and J. W. Stone is vice-president and supervisor of agents.

MRS. JANE RAGSDALE

Funeral services for Mrs. Jane Ragdale, 59 years old, who died in a Cape Girardeau hospital early Wednesday morning of complications which followed a major operation, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at her home here by the Rev. Finis E. Jones. Burial was in the city cemetery.

Besides her husband, Claude Ragdale, she is survived by six children, all of a former marriage; two daughters, Mrs. Vernon Heister of Cape Girardeau and Mrs. Chas. Andrews of Vienna, Ill., and four sons, Jack, Chas., Henry and Fred Hazel, all of Sikeston. A fifth son, Paul, died last October. Welsh service.

R. F. Dierking, of Jefferson City, representing the Portland Cement Association, was a business visitor in Sikeston Thursday and paid The Standard office a visit. He is a friend of T. Wilson. 'Nuf sed!

HOLLINGSWORTH'S DRUG STORE TO BE OPEN SOON

W. E. Hollingsworth expects to have his drug store, which is located in the building occupied by Dudley's confectionery, open for business by a week from Saturday.

Workmen are now active rearranging the store's show cases and setting in place one recently purchased and in redecorating the interior of the building.

The partition which formerly divided the booths from the soda fountain has been removed, the booths have been placed in the center of the floor of the rear half of the store and the cases put in front and alone the sides of the building.

Mr. Hollingsworth, who will have a registered pharmacist present at all times to care for prescription and drug orders, will be active in the operation of his concern, which will be stocked with all standard kinds of drug goods.

Jack Lancaster, who now owns and manages the confectionery, will continue to operate at his present location.

DOG BITES DICK SWANNER

Dick Swanner, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Swanner, was bitten by a bird dog belonging to Buddy Lair, as he was returning home Tuesday afternoon from a music lesson at the home of Mrs. H. J. Welsh. A deep wound on his right thigh was closed with a stitch. Dick is now recovering at home.

In the back yard of the F. D. Lair home, Lair and Herman Henry let the dog from her pen while they looked at her pups. They saw Dick, cutting through the back yard, evidently to save time, and saw the dog start toward him, but they were unable to reach the child in time to save him from the attack.

The dog first attempted to reach Dick's face, but he dodged. He could not escape, however, and the dog bit his leg, taking from it a piece approximately the size of a quarter. Lair and Henry soon rescued the child from the dog and took him to the office of Dr. T. C. McClure, where he was treated.

It is presumed that the dog was fearful for the safety of her pups.

WOMEN HEAR REPORT ON RIPLEY SURVEY

Mrs. Ezra Ponder entertained members of the Lectus Club of Doniphan and Sikeston friends Tuesday afternoon at a party given at her home on Moore Avenue.

After a luncheon at 1 o'clock women present heard a paper, given by Mrs. C. F. Allen of Doniphan on "Findings of the Ozarks", which embodied notable results of the recent survey made by CWA workers on industries, churches, libraries, Indian relics, social and social service organizations and hospitals of Ripley County.

The most important discovery, Mrs. Allen found, was that Ripley county had served as a playground for the Indian living in Missouri territory.

Women who came from Doniphan, besides Mrs. Allen, were Mesdames T. J. Buford, Sr., T. J. Buford, Jr., E. K. Buford, C. F. Allen, H. J. Withrow, K. Shenwell, A. D. Sheppard and John Chilton. Mrs. A. L. O. Rodes, her sister, Mrs. Jos. H. Allen of St. Joseph, Mrs. Harry Hartly and Mrs. Frank Noonan were also present.

FINED FOR DISORDERLY CONDUCT NEAR CHURCH

Buck Carter was fined $10 and costs after he was found guilty in Judge W. H. Carter's police court Tuesday afternoon of molesting a young woman at the Pentecostal church Sunday evening.

According to the testimony of four witnesses, Carter, under influence of liquor, attempted to escort the young woman home after the church services. When she refused to accompany him, it is said, he choked, struck, cursed and abused her. He was arrested Monday evening by Bill Robinson, special police officer, who placed him in the city jail until the trial.

When he was unable to pay the fine and costs, which totaled $17.70, Carter was taken again to the jail. Thursday morning he began to work on the city streets.

The Russell-Bradley Missionary Society of the local Methodist church was entertained Tuesday night by Mrs. Ray Marshall and Mrs. Chris Francis, at the former's home on North Kingshighway. At this time it was planned to give a "Manless Wedding" later in the month. The hostesses for next month will be announced later.

Edward Fuchs, Jr., was a business visitor in New Madrid, Monday.

Negro Murderer Caught By Officers in Cairo

Green Phillips, 25-year-old negro, who has been wanted for the murder of the night of March 3 of Rube T. Pollack, special officer for the Rock Island railroad at Brinkley, Ark., and for a robbery at the post-office at Fair Oaks, Ark., on February 11, was caught at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning during a raid at Cairo. After waving extradition, to be taken to Blytheville by Clarence Wilson, sheriff of Mississippi County, Arkansas.

Members of the raiding party who captured Phillips were Sergeant R. R. Reed of the State highway patrol office here; Sheriff Wilson, Ed Rice, chief of police, and Thurman Adkins, officer, all of Blytheville; C. V. McShane, special agent of the Rock Island railroad; J. T. Reinmiller, special agent, and E. E. Parker, special officer, both of the Frisco railway. They were assisted by Cairo policemen.

The circumstances of the murder are worthy of repetition. During an inspection of railroad cars in the Rock Island yards at Brinkley, an employee of the company found a fire burning on a piece of tin on the floor of the car.

He called Pollack, who came and entered the car to investigate the fire.

"What are you doing here?" he asked a negro whom he saw lying

Without a word, the negro rolled over, took a gun, and fired, shooting Pollack four or five times in the legs and abdomen.

Although he was severely hurt, Pollack aimed his gun and shot at the negro, wounding him in the hip before he escaped. Pollack lived for several days after the shooting. Since that time, officers have been searching for the fugitive.

Kendall Qualifies As Chief of Police

Walter Kendall qualified as Sikeston's chief of police at a called meeting of members of the City Council Monday evening. A bond, to replace one made four years ago, is now being prepared and will probably be signed soon.

It is hoped that the administration of the oath of office will end difficulties which have existed since Kendall was re-elected to the police chief's position in April. Since that time Kendall has refused to qualify and to accept checks for a $50 monthly salary. It is said that he was dissatisfied because his compensation was not larger.

Some time ago Dr. G. W. Presnell appointed Bill Robinson as special police officer to execute the duties pertaining to the police chief's office.

Then at a regular meeting June 4 of members of the City Council, a motion to declare the office of chief of police vacant and to arrange for a special election to choose a successor to the position was passed unanimously.

It is said that after the meeting Kendall spoke to several councilmen, asking them to reconsider their decision. At Monday's session, while members were attempting to determine a date for an election, it was suggested that Kendall be given another opportunity to meet the demands of his office. He was brought to the City Hall, the motion declaring his office vacant was rescinded, and the oath given.

A petition for the sale of liquor by the drink which has been circulating in Sikeston for about two weeks and now bears more than 600 names, was tabled until January when Robt. Dempster, city attorney, stated that no election may be held within sixty days of another one. Since voters will soon go to the polls at the primaries in August and at the general election in November, no special election may be called for some time.

Two tax ordinance, similar to ones made annually, were passed at the meeting Monday evening. One fixed the city property tax rate at $1.10 a $100 valuation, 50 cents to be used for general revenue and 60 cents for the sinking fund. The second ordinance levied a city poll tax of $2 on all men between the ages of 21 and 50. A third ordinance, tabled at the June 4 session, changed the name of Ethel avenue to East Gladys Street.

The City Clerk, A. C. Barrett, was instructed to write all licenses for selling beer of more than 3.2 per cent for a year ending in December, 1934. He was told not to reduce the fee, which is $10.

A Short Encounter Nets Needed Money

With the payment a few days ago of a tax and interest on 20 gallons of whisky, the story of a Sikeston resident who had an unfortunate encounter with the law is ended.

Difficulties began on April 23, 1933, when the man was arrested by federal prohibition agents as he was enroute here from New Madrid County with a load of liquor. The agents seized his car, his pistol, and his whiskey, and for a brief period kept him in the New Madrid County jail.

The following day he was arraigned in the federal court at Cape Girardeau, where he was fined $50. His total losses at that time were one pistol, twenty gallons of whisky, and money for the fine and for a lawyer.

In July of the same year, the resident received a bill from the federal government for a tax of $1.10 on the liquor which the agents had taken. For some time he ignored it.

This week, however, he paid the government $22 in taxes on the whisky and $3.08 for 5 per cent interest which had accumulated since the tax was first assessed.

It is generally conceded that the government's debt should be greatly reduced by the harvest which it has reaped from its brief acquaintance with the resident.

SIMPSON LEADS LEAGUE

The Simpson Oilers moved into first place in the munny baseball league last Thursday by defeating the Himmelberger-Harrison team 8 to 7.

On Tuesday they further strengthened their hold by downing Kirby 3 to 1 in a game characterized by sensational catches by members of their team, who outplayed their opponents. Simpson has now won four games and lost two.

In Thursday's game, which required eight innings to break a 7 to 7 tie at the end of the seventh, a Himmelberger-Harrison representative requested that the game be thrown out and another played at a later date because of two arguments which resulted from the umpire's decisions.

At his second time at bat, Jack Lancaster stepped from the box to hit a curve ball, which brought in two runs. The Morehouse team manager objected on the grounds that in stepping from the box Lancaster violated baseball rules. The umpire, Gene Buckles, however, stated that Lancaster did not go beyond his permitted three feet. His decision stands.

During the last play in the game when a ball passed the catcher, the catcher and spectators, it is said, state that it was fouled by the batter. The umpire, in refusing to change his decision on this matter, stated that the ball did not strike anyone. The winning run was brought in on this play.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Reese went to Cairo Thursday, where that night they attended the graduation exercises of the Cairo high school. Norman Chambliss, a nephew of Mrs. Reese, was a member of the class. Mr. and Mrs. Reese will remain in that city until Saturday, visiting relatives.

LEGISLATOR ANNOUNCES FOR CONGRESS

Upon his return to Chaffee after adjournment of the Special Session of the Legislature, Eugene M. Munger, prominent attorney of Scott County, informally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress in this, the new 10th Congressional District, and today formally announced as a candidate.

Elected to the General Assembly from this county in 1932, upon taking up his duties in January, 1933, he early became a leader in that body. He devoted his time to legislation affecting the citizens of Southeast Missouri particularly and assisted Senator Langdon Jones, Kennett, in re-writing and enacting new tax laws, especially relating to delinquent taxes, the method of collection and lowering the costs and penalties. Having watched the drainage districts form, develop and become a burden upon the land owners, he joined in passing a new law for assessing drained lands and lands within levee districts for taxation, thereby rendering a valuable service to the owners of all lands subject to such taxation. In seeking to be of further aid to the distressed land owners, Mr. Munger introduced measures seeking the aid of Reconstruction Finance Corporation for loans with which to retire, at a discount, the bonds outstanding against lands in drainage and levee districts and also had the honor of introducing and passing his Resolution memorializing Congress to give immediate aid to the drainage districts of Missouri.

Early in the regular session he assisted in passing a bill extending the time for payment of delinquent taxes without penalties and also supported a similar measure in the Special Session.

To labor legislation he devoted much time and attention, lending aid and support to many proposed changes in existing laws affecting the laboring men and women of Missouri. One of these bills which became the law was Senate Bill 87, an act prohibiting an employer from refusing an employee taking part in political meetings or conventions or from holding political office. In the past some of the large corporations of the State had denied their employees from being members of City councils, school boards and the like, much to the detriment of the communities affected, especially when the industry in such community employed great numbers of the residents. Another bill supported by Mr. Munger affected railroad employees only, which was the "Short Train Bill", seeking to limit the length of freight trains to seventy cars.

Having served in the World War from March 26th, 1917, to July 11, 1919, fourteen months overseas in the A. E. F. with an infantry regiment, a part of the 35th Division, Mr. Munger has first hand knowledge of the needs of the veterans. At the time the American Legion was being formed and until this hour he had been unselfish in his services to ex-service men. Honored by having been elected First Vice Commander of the American Legion, Department of Missouri, he had the pleasure of serving under Brigadier General E. M. Stayton, present commanding officer of the National Guard of Missouri who was then Commander of the Legion in this State. To the veteran he promises a continuance of his services, always seeking to insure the proper care and attention by hospitalization and otherwise to all ex-service men.

Every sound bill proposed which affected the farmers and tax payers of Missouri he ably supported, a policy he will follow when a member of Congress.

In the special session of the State Legislature, called last October by the Governor, he introduced House Bill 5, a sales tax measure. This bill proposed a 2% sales tax upon all retail sales, and was the last of five similar measures introduced. House Bill 5 met with the approval of Governor Park as being the best method proposed for the State collecting the needed revenue, one-third to be used to match Federal Funds for relief work, one-third to aid the public schools of the State and one-third to replenish a depleted State treasury. After weeks of hard work and overcoming much organized opposition, a Committee Substitute for H. B. 5 was reported out and finally passed. The substitute levied a 1/2 of one per cent tax which Mr. Munger deemed would not bring in sufficient revenue to meet the demands justifying its enactment and at the time of passage said, "This proposal of 1/2 of

They led the editor of a country paper away to the madhouse the other day. He had written a hundred dollars worth of free publicity for a big musical entertainment in his home town and for the final writeup its sponsors brought him one of the programs which had been executed on a mimeograph machine.

All who care to can condemn the Roosevelt policies to their heart's content and at the same time the most bitter partisan is bound to acknowledge that many families would have gone hungry if they hadn't been in effect.

It seems strange that a fellow will pull off some stunts in his home town that cause heart aches and embarrassment to his family. Why don't they go to some foreign place where their trifling tricks will not reach home?

Chickie Jewell, in the Veterans' Hospital at Memphis, is reported to be getting along fairly well and hopes to be able to return home around the first of July and become active in his campaign for the nomination for constable of Richland Township.

By Minnie Sayers Smith

Washington, a veritable dream city, and rightly named the City of Magnificent Distances. The only capital in the world planned and constructed for that special purpose. One of the most beautiful cities in the world, owes its picturesque and spacious arrangement to the vision of the grand man for whom it was named, George Washington, who engaged Major L'Enfant, the skillful French engineer, to design and plan it. The numbered streets run north and south. The lettered streets east and west avenues, named for the States cross them diagonally, intersected at intervals by squares or circles, named for the general whose statue it holds. This break in the continuity is very confusing to strangers.

Pennsylvania Avenue, once an almost impassable mud shambles, but now the most famous thoroughfare in the country, passes the White House, and twining at the Treasury Building, gives an unbroken vista to the Capitol, a mile and a half away, being the official route for all parades in peace and war.

The Capitol is one of the largest buildings in the world as well as one of the most imposing. It occupies a commanding position on a high elevation, with extensive terraces on the west and a broad plaza on the east. Its stateliness is increased at night, when the dome is lighted, which appears as a great jeweled crown.

Entering the Rotunda, through the great bronze doors in the center of the building on the east front the grandeur of the building is at once apparent. On the walls hang eight large historical paintings concerning each of which your correspondent made notes, and the beautiful fresco of the Dome is also historic. Just below is the marvelous frescoed frieze, in self tones, on historic subjects and so wonderfully painted by the great artist, Brumidi, that it is almost impossible to believe it is not a bas relief. He died when it was about half finished. It was completed by his assistant and a third artist painted an isolated panel which shows by contrast, the remarkable skill of Brumidi, who had restored some of Raphael's work in the Vatican. Statuary Hall is filled with outstanding figures of the different States, two from each State. Some new arrangement must be made to relieve the great pressure upon the floor.

The Supreme Court room, into which the Chief Justice and the associate Justices, file at exactly 12 noon at the same hour the session open in the Senate Chamber and Hall of Representatives, in the two wings which may be observed by visitors in the galleries.

This court room impressed your correspondent most of anything in the building. She could vision Webster and Clay and other noted personages, and imagine it possible to hear their resonant tones which might easily have filled the room. Along the corridors are statues of illustrious and prominent men. Half way up the stairway of the House wing, is the famous painting of Lincoln and his War Cabinet with the emancipation proclamation, the original of which, your correspondent had the pleasure of viewing in the Lincoln Museum formerly known as Ford's Theatre. Facing the Plaza on the east front the inaugural exercises and other events of national importance take place, and beneath the terraces, and immediately underneath the huge fountain and basin is the garage in which the cars of the Senators and Congressmen are kept.

On my first visit to the capitol, I was escorted by Miss Blanton, who piloted me through the underground passage and to my great delight aboard the small train which is used for that purpose, after being lifted to the second floor she began immediately pointing out distinguished personages, Daniel Reed of New York, Casper of Kansas, Vice-President Garner.

In search of her Senator, we entered, a rare privilege, the office of Mr. Halsey, Secretary of the Senate, who presides in Vice-President Garner's absence from the Senate. Here we saw Senator Pat Harrison and Mr. Halsey, to whom I was introduced. Our purpose here was her request of the former to call Frances Perkins on a matter of importance. We then lunched in the dining room for members of the Senate only, where there were pointed out to me, Republican Roscoe Patterson of Missouri, Senator Fess, Ohio, Barbour of N. J., former Secretary of Labor Davis, Mrs. Caraway, Sen. Lonerger of Connecticut, Omahoney of Wyoming, Ashurst, Arizona, Mrs. George of Georgia, Mr. and Mrs. Whitesides, the former of whom I met who is secretary to Mrs. Caraway; Thos. Connally of Texas, and others. After lunch, we entered the Senate Chamber, where I heard the Blind Senator Gore render an impressive speech. His crown of white hair and distinguished bearing making it all the more so. On my second visit to the capitol, escorted by Congressman Browning of Tennessee, and my daughter, Helen, we lunched in the dining room for Members only, of the House of Representatives. Escorted to the President's room, an oval arrangement done in red, with huge mirrors and paintings, with frescoed ceiling, where one on the Madonna order follows you with her eyes wherever you stand. Then the Vice-President's room, where on one wall was a small mirror with gold enamel frame less than a yard long, about 18 inches tall, which Dolly Madison ordered. The bill of $40 was paid by the one in authority, who afterward was called upon the Senate floor and severely lectured for having spent so extravagant a sum for a mirror. Here also Mr. Compton, who has charge of the office, the Vice-President being absent, presented me with some blank permit cards from Mr. Garner's desk as souvenirs and also a pen point, gold, from the stock which he refurnished with a new one. Am still wondering just what bills were signed with this pen point.

We then went into the Hall of Representatives, where the session was opened by the chaplain offering prayer and minutes read. Then a heated debate by Black of New York and others. There I saw Bryan's secretary, Howard, noted for imitating his famous employer's dress and walk, DePriest, the colored representative, who objected to colored employees not being allowed in the restaurant for members only, J. Ham Lewis and others.

The ceilings of the different corridors are pictured with the fruits of science and invention.

In Statuary Hall, a guide at one time had us collect around a certain metal plate in the floor, leaving there, he went some distance, whispering. The delegation smiled their approval. They had heard wonderful acoustics.

Here I met a friend of Bennett Clark and Tuck Milligan, the latter of whom is now running for Senator from Missouri. Their friend was Robert Prespin, formerly employed in the Stationery Department in the House office building.

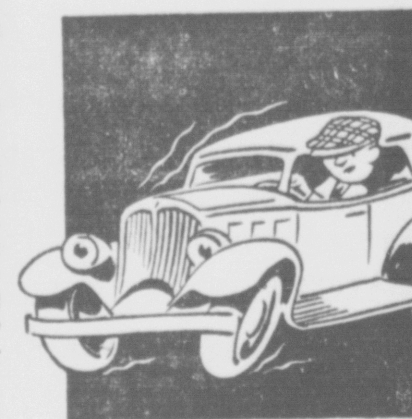

Knowing that editors are human beings, and appreciate not being imposed upon, I shall postpone the account of a visit to Mt. Vernon until later.

Rattlesnake Eats Heartily

A four-foot rattlesnake which had evidently a short time before feasted on two full-grown squirrels was shot and killed recently by Ben Brinkopf, a farmer living near Jackson. As he watched four squirrels in a mulberry tree while he was out hunting, Brinkopf made the frightening discovery that he was standing within a few feet of a rattler. After he had killed the snake, he examined it, because as was curious that it had such a large girth. Inside he found the two whole squirrels.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West, of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 pounds until taking one box of Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment!"

Fat folks should take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at White's or Heiserer or any drug store—the cost for a bottle that lasts four weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

NOTHING STILTED ABOUT WHITE HOUSE PARTIES THESE DAYS

By Foust Roper

Washington, June 6.—"What", inquires the Brunette, "does one say when one meets Mrs. Roosevelt?"

"I don't know," I reply. The Brunette and I are in a long line of guests ascending the stairs to the East Room of the White House.

The event is a reception for members of the press, their wives, girl friends and husbands and beaux (there are some fifty women writers here).

But it is so easy. Mrs. Roosevelt smiles and any self-consciousness we small-towners may have, fades away. We say, "How do you do", as we shake hands and move on to meet Mrs. Garner.

A New York orchestra is already throbbing out "Love Thy Neighbor", and after being greeted by the First and Second Ladies, the Brunette and I have a go at dancing.

Mr. Roosevelt Present

It is understood his duties will prevent Mr. Roosevelt from attending, and the Brunette and I swing around to the south end of the crystal-chandeliered East Room before she suddenly tugs at my sleeve and exclaims: "There he is! Oh, isn't he fine looking?"

I turn, and sitting there in a large arm chair, ladies and gentlemen, is this man who has more charm than Clark Gable and Dick Powell combined.

We rejoin the receiving line in no time. "Good evening, Mr. President"—and though I am but one of 1400 guests, he makes me feel as if I am No. 1 as he smiles, gives a warm hand-clasp and says, "It's good to see you".

Feminine Tact

Soon after the Brunette and I dance by with her back to him. "Don't stare", she corrects me. So we turn and then I happen to glance at her. She is looking holes through him!

So we soak in the smooth music and stroll through the great first house of the land. We sit awhile in the Red, Blue and Green rooms. We drift out on the south portico where there are little tables on which are cigarettes and ash trays. At various spots are massive silver urns of ice water.

He's Franklin To Her

Some special Irish numbers are given by local singers, and as the program ends, Mrs. Roosevelt takes the platform. The president is at the other end of the room. "Franklin", she addresses him, and then thanks the entertainers.

That particularly thrills me—that the president is still just "Franklin" to her. And what a lovely person she is herself! They are a great husband-and-wife team, these Roosevelts!

Aquatic Gem

We go downstairs—much against the Brunette's desire, so afraid is she we will make a break—and I ask about the swimming pool. Certainly we may see it, and a servant shows the way. With white tile sides and bottom, its water gleams like a huge green jewel. Bamboo furniture and palms are along the sides and on the wall is a clock—the sole reminder of work and duty.

Returning to the upper floor, we find refreshments being served in the state dining room. From a table thirty feet long, negroes are providing the guests with ice cream from heavy silver bowls. This richly paneled room is one of the most beautiful of all and tonight candles and flowers add to its splendor.

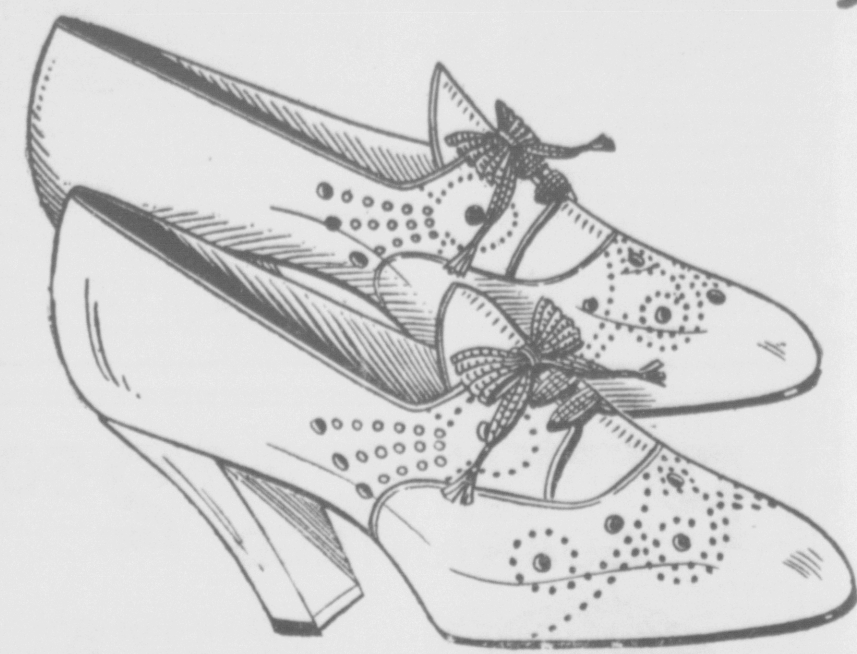

'Let 'Em Eat Cake'

There are a dozen kinds of cake on the table, supplemented with salted nuts and bon-bons. We receive a plate of ice cream and make our own selections of the accompaniments. And, of course, there is coffee.

So the Brunette and I return to the big East Room with its gold furniture and the gold piano and the famous portrait of Washington which Dolly Madison saved during the War of 1812. We dance again.

There is nothing stiff or stuffy or stilted. We are having just a natural, unforced good time at the White House!

Miscellany

What does one wear to the White House? Our host and hostess, mindful of their guests' comfort on a warm evening, have decreed informal dress—"informal" meaning wear what you please. Most of the women are in evening gowns, while among the males linen suits brush against tail coats. Mrs. Roosevelt wears a white chiffon with diamond clasps. The president has on a blue business suit with white shirt and blue bow tie. Son Elliott, visiting his parents, is in brown. Most of the correspondents have elected to wear blue coats and white flannels.

The Brunette is all atwitter the entire evening—although, I confess, no more so than I. Not until noon did I learn an unmarried writer might bring a date. So I called her, and she is so excited she goes downtown and buys a rose, lace evening gown.

Two cards are enclosed with each White House invitation. One is for display on the windshield of one's car to secure entrance to the grounds, and the other is produced at the door. One enters the building at the end of the east wing and passes down a long corridor to the cloak room, where a small army of servants stands ready to take hats and wraps.

The White House is all ablaze with light as our cab swings up Pennsylvania avenue and it is difficult, somehow, to realize we have been the guests of the Roosevelts.

The excitement over the Brunette slumps on the seat. "Wasn't the food delicious?" she irrelevantly asked.

"Swell", I reply. "Mrs. Roosevelt sure is a good cook!"

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Schneider and Mrs. S. S. Cashdollar of Flint, Mich., are here visiting the former's sister and the latter's daughter, Mrs. C. A. Bradshaw and family.

No American industry excites more curiosity than the Ford Motor Company. What Mr. Ford makes or loses is mostly guess and what he proposes to do is not known until he announces what he has done. Based on a statement of condition filed with the Massachusetts commissioner of corporations, it is estimated that Ford finished the year with a deficit of $3,923,000 against a deficit of $79,247,000 in 1932. The last profit, it is stated, was in 1930, when earnings were $44,460,000. Persons frequently ask why Ford, with all his millions, continues to struggle, work and bend all his energies toward improvement and advancement. What he loses is a drop in the bucket and what he makes only adds to the millions he has and cannot spend. Few realize the tremendous responsibility men like Ford feel to their employees. A gigantic industry, with thousands of dependents, lays a heavy hand of obligation upon heads of industries which must keep going, ever advancing long after every material ambition has been satisfied, that jobs and opportunity for others to earn a livelihood may be provided. Loyalty of employees to employers is often a subject of comment, but loyalty of employers to employees is equally pronounced.—Commercial Appeal.

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR COUNTY W. C. T. U. MEET

Mrs. Louise Van Lund of St. Louis, treasurer of the Missouri W. C. T. U. organization, will be the speaker for the day at the twenty-second annual convention of members of the Scott County Woman's Christian Temperance Union which will be held at the First Baptist church here Monday. In addition to delivering an address at the afternoon session, Mrs. Van Lund will lead a discussion on "State Plans and Membership" in the morning.

Other features of the one-day meeting will include a talk on the "Necessity of Temperance Education" by Mrs. Clyde Poe of Oran, a memorial service led by Mrs. Ruby Graham of Blodgett, election of officers, reports of county directors, and a gold medal declamation contest under the direction of Mrs. Birdie Fox of Skeston.

Entrants in this contest, all of whom have previously won silver medal competitions, are: Esther Duncan, Nannie Lee Myers, Gwendolyn Kirk, Ruth Hollingsworth, Shirley Jean Smith, and a young woman from Morley.

The following county directors will report on their activities during the year: Mrs. Stella Thomas of Skeston—Scientific Temperance Instruction; Mrs. Nellie Mount of Skeston—Christian Citizenship; Mrs. Della Poe of Oran—Sunday Schools and Temperance; Mrs. J. A. O'Hara of Skeston—Bible in Public Schools; Mrs. J. F. Nunnelee of Blodgett—Publicity; Mrs. Birdie Fox of Skeston—Medal Contest; Mrs. Dora E. Bailey of Blodgett—Parliamentary Usage; Miss Sadie Emory of Skeston—Evangelism and Sabbath Observance; Mrs. Robert Leslie of Morley—Social Meetings and Red Letter Days; Mrs. Belle Morrison of Skeston—Flower Mission.

After the convention is called to order at 9:30 o'clock by the president, Mrs. Ella Clemson of Oran, members present will sing "Onward Christian Soldiers". Devotions will be led by the Rev. C. F. Transue, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here, and a welcoming address will be given by Mrs. J. A. O'Hara and a response by Mrs. U. G. Ragains of Morley.

Following the reports of county officers and officials of local unions and the discussion led by Mrs. Van Lund, Miss Lula Ruth Ragains of Morley will play a violin solo. The morning session will be closed with noon-tide paper and announcements.

When the women reconvene at 1:30 o'clock, they will sing "Faith of Our Fathers" and will be led in devotions by the Rev. E. H. Orear.

M. E. EVENING SERVICES DISCONTINUED FOR SUMMER

Evening services at the Methodist Episcopal Church here will be discontinued during June, July and August, according to E. H. Orear, pastor of the church. This summer, as well, the morning Sunday school and church services will be held at 9 o'clock and at 10 o'clock instead of at 9:45 and 11:00.

W. B. A. MEETING HELD MONDAY NIGHT

The regular meeting of the W. B. A. was held in the I. O. O. F. Hall Monday night, June 11. At this meeting President Mrs. H. F. Cole tendered her resignation which was sorrowfully accepted. Mrs. Cole is leaving the city for Tennessee, where she will make her home. Mrs. Clarence Marshall, vice president, will fill the vacancy for the remainder of the year. Also at this meeting Mrs. Charles Bethune was elected vice president and will also act as press correspondent until the return of Mrs. Lawson Patterson, who is ill.

At the close of the meeting all members present went to Dudley's for a brief farewell party for Mrs. Cole. It is with deep regret that the Review loses Mrs. Cole as she has been a loyal president for the last two terms. The entire Review joins in wishing her much happiness in her new home.

At the next regular meeting, Mrs. Frank Moody, leader of Group No. 3, will be in charge of the evening.

tainment, as this will be social night.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilbur had as their guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Yeakey and small son and daughter of Morehouse, Mrs. W. N. Summers, Mrs. W. N. Summers, Jr., and Miss Ellenora Summers of Canolou, the occasion being a dinner in honor of Mr. Wilbur's sister, Mrs. R. D. Baker, of Washington, D. C.

Quality Meats

Sikeston, Mo., June 15

DEAR FRIENDS:

We have been in the Meat Retailing business in Skeston for many years and we have been fair to our customers and they have been fair to us. We have not lost but very little money on account of extending credit in comparison with the volume of business done. But the fact that we have ALWAYS MET CASH and CARRY COMPETITION PRICES at all times—has not always been fair to our pocket-book. Since we feel that we have treated you fair at all times by giving you lowest prices, good quality, honest weight, good service—now we are asking you to consider treating us fair by continuing to patronize us as before—and PAY CASH ON DELIVERY of each order, as other cash stores require of you. We are taking this step for the protection of our business on account of having two or three jolts of bad luck during the past six months. Our friendship and our service to you will still continue 100%. We will loan you money if we have it—but we must compete with other cash stores and to do so we must ask for cash on each order just as they do. Remember—Our delivery service will continue as usual. The only change is that we ask you pay cash for each order. This will go into effect Sunday, June 17.

Yours for service,

Mrs. C. M. Harris, Phone 581, Local Reporter

Miss Mayme Jean Wilbur, Miss Ellenora Summers and Elmar Poage spent Sunday in Naylor, where the young people conducted a Christian Endeavor meeting. Mr. Poage is President of the Southeast District of Christian Endeavor and Miss Wilbur is the Secretary of that District.

Mrs. R. D. Baker of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting her brother, J. H. Wilbur and family of this city, returned to her home in Washington Monday night after a month's visit here.

Miss Emmi Dodge Lutz, of Charleston, visited The Standard office Wednesday afternoon. We found her to be a very charming Miss.

Miss Louise Chandler, of Lutesville, is the guest of Miss Mary Elizabeth Nolan on North Kings highway.

Harry Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Young, has returned home from Washington University, St. Louis, where he was recently initiated into Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Slack were called to Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday evening by the death of a relative. They expect to return to Sikeston, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Old and baby of Redondo Beach, Calif., are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Ella Old.

Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Layton of Commerce visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Layton here, and sister, Mrs. J. O. Bebout, at Bertrand, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

Those who attended the funeral of Mr. Pate held yesterday afternoon in Charleston, were: Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Mrs. W. W. Lankford, Miss Freda Reese, Mrs. Dean Marshall, Mrs. C. M. Harris, Mrs. W. Carson, Mrs. Alfred Taylor, Mrs. Ben Morrison, Mrs. W. O. Scott and Mrs. Guy Carter. Mr. Pate was the father of Mrs. L. T. Davey of this city. Services were held at the home of his son, Less Pate, at 3 o'clock. Burial was in the Charleston cemetery.

A letter received yesterday morning by the writer from Mrs. A. B. Proffer at Dexter stated that Mr. Proffer was very low at the time of writing, which was June 13. Mr. and Mrs. Proffer were former residents of Sikeston and their many friends here regret to hear of his serious illness.

Barney Forrester and daughter, Mary Ann, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Layton and Mrs. Lizzie Ferrell will go to St. Louis, Sunday, to visit with the latter's daughter, Mrs. Roy Johnson and Mr. Johnson. While there, they will also visit with Mrs. Forrester, at the Barnes Hospital.

Late reports from Mrs. Lawson Patterson, are that she is still improving. Mrs. Patterson is a patient at the St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

rate to one per cent tonight then this additional tax will serve its purpose and can be at an end early in 1935. To pass the substitute as it is, in my opinion, means that the citizens of Missouri will be forced not only to stand a continuance of this burden, but have the rate more than doubled in order to pay deficiencies. This prediction has come true according to the latest statement from State Auditor Smith, who recently stated that not more than $300,000 per month is being received from this source and that such sum is not sufficient to meet the State's needs for new revenue, planned to be procured from this source.

Following the leadership of President Roosevelt, he joined in seeking to enact laws permitting municipalities without a bond issue, to construct and operate utility plants to serve their own communities, to be paid for out of the proceeds earned. Always an advocate for the rights of the individual citizen, Mr. Munger guarded them at every opportunity, and with a small group in the House finally succeeded in securing adequate appropriation for the continuance of the Public Service Commission in order that necessary regulation of public utilities in Missouri might be continued.

His party pledges were kept by him. Voting to abolish many needless boards and bureaus, consolidating others, reducing the number of employees of the State, instituting the Executive Budget and setting up the State Purchasing Officer, and other like measures, he made a record as a Legislator of ability and integrity.

Mr. Munger was born at Van Buren, Carter County, Missouri, January 1, 1896. His boyhood was spent at Dexter, Stoddard county, where he was educated in the Public and High Schools. Prior to his service in the army, he supported himself as a printer and newspaper writer, earning his way through two years of night law school, which education he finished in Chicago after the war and after he had married Miss Ruth Humphreys, then of Jackson, daughter of Rev. Wm. A. Humphreys, now of Cape Girardeau, a retired Methodist minister. Beginning the practice of his profession at Bloomfield, 1923, with his father, Geo. Geo. Munger, in 1928 he removed to Chaffee, where he has since resided.

Car Owners in Sikeston Can Now Ask For and Get Genuine Alemite'ing

We are Alemite Lubrication Specialists in Sikeston—ready to show you the difference between ordinary "greasing" and genuine Alemite-ing.

It is just as easy and far less expensive today to get thorough, scientific lubrication for your car—genuine Alemite-ing—as it is to have just "some grease" put in. In Sikeston we are equipped to give Alemite Specialized Lubrication. It is not difficult to find and finding us will pay you many times over in smoother, quieter car performance, pickup, get-away.

Genuine Alemite-ing is proper lubrication—the use of special Alemite Lubricants scientifically developed by the makers of the Alemite Lubrication System on your car—an entirely different service from just using "some grease".

This far more satisfactory service is offered only by Alemite Labrication Specialists. We use Alemite Service Equipment and these specially develop Alemite Lubricants for each of the special needs in your car chassis: A particularly strong-bodied, fluid Alemite Lubricant for differential and transmission; a fibrous clinging type for universal joints; a pure, solidified oil for chassis bearings; other special genuine Alemite Lubricants for wheel bearings, steering gear, water pump, springs, shackles.

And each car is Alemite-ed according to its manufacturers' own specifications. Thus not a point can be overlooked—later to cause wear and repairs!

Naturally, you get better results from Alemite-ing—results that you can see and feel—in an improved car performance and reduced operating expense.

Do not wait for costly repair bills to teach you the difference between genuine Alemite-ing and the haphazard use of "some grease". Avoid unnecessary repairs and make sure your car gives you all its fine performance and freedom from trouble. A safe, sure way of doing this is to ask for and get genuine Alemite-ing.

Phone 229 we will call for and deliver your car.

RABBIT WINS BY KNOCKOUT

A fight which lasted several minutes ended in the murder Tuesday of a three-foot copperhead. The slayer, a large white pet rabbit, resident of a wire-front box in a yard at Potosi, was exonerated when a witness testified that he killed in self-defense.

The vicious battle began when the snake, a poisonous one, attempted to gain entrance to the rabbit's house from the front. When he was approximately half-way through the wire netting the pet rose to defend his dwelling and started vigorously to pound the snake with his hind feet.

The copperhead, probably somewhat amazed and certainly in an embarrassing position, with half his body outside and the other in, was unable to strike his opponent. It did, however, attempt to extricate itself from the rabbit long enough, presumably, to haul the rest of its body into the box.

Its supposed wish was finally granted when at last it slipped through the wire and lay, quite dead, coiled at the feet of its slayer.

Mrs. E. C. Inman and Mary Frances and Don Litzelfelner of Cape Girardeau, visited several days here this week with their sister and aunt, Mrs. L. R. Burns and family.

The following spent Tuesday at Big Springs, near Van Buren: Mrs. A. J. Moore, Miss Henrietta Moore, Mrs. John Powell, Miss Ruth Ward Powell, Mrs. W. W. Hinchey, Mrs. L. M. Stalcup, Miss Lynnette Stallcup, Mrs. E. C. Matthews, Edward Matthews, Miss Jean Fairbanks of Chicago and Miss Lillian Gail Applegate of Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Luther Spradling and Mrs. Martin Wagner of Jackson visited Monday with Mrs. Birch Moll. Mr. Wagner also accompanied them here and attended the Bakers meeting.

HOUSE FURNISHINGS

Our 36th Year in Southeast Missouri

Thanks, Southeast Missourians

Our bookkeeper has just furnished a memo to the effect that sales up to June 1st increased over 100% as compared to the same period last year. Other Sikeston merchants can doubtless show even larger gains. It all goes to show that the New Deal has not been bad for merchants who are willing to work while they wait. Most people like to trade at an up and coming store. Ours is that sort.

The Acid Test

If electric refrigerators have any weak points they usually develop when Old "Sol" begins beating down to about 100 in the shade for days in succession. Frigidaire owners will then discover how valuable it is to have double cylinder equipment which has the power to create 100% refrigeration in spite of high temperature. Play safe by choosing a Frigidaire '34.

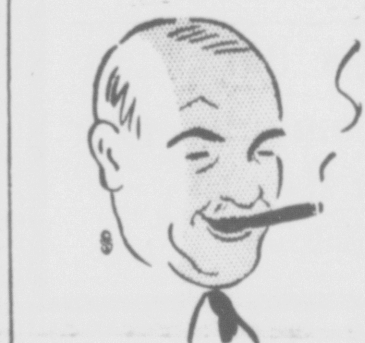

Still They Come

Several new bedroom outfits were unpacked today, among them another of the striking modernistic sets which was so much admired last week by shoppers. This shipment contains distinctly different types of furniture from that shown heretofore in Sikeston. We should like to have your opinion of them.

No Exaggerations

Our salesmen are cautioned against wild claims of superiority, "miracle" merchandising and other forms of mere "wind work". We leave that sort of propaganda to those who have not yet learned it does them more harm than good—and in time—they will learn all right. We do claim, however, that for 36 years ENERGY and INDUSTRY in the store ranks have not been allowed to go stale, nor will that happen in the future if we keep our right mind.

Our floor covering stock is varied at this time. Among other additions are several rolls of pretty inlaid linoleums and twelve foot print linoleum patterns. No extra charge is made for laying in ordinary form.

SIKESTON GOLFERS LOSE MATCH BY CLOSE SCORE

The Blytheville Country Club team—34 strong—came up to Sikeston Sunday and took the local boys into camp by about the narrowest margin imaginable—just one point. Blytheville brought 34 players but the locals were only able to match 32 of them, as several of the local players were out of the city. As it was, the local club had to invite a number of golfers to compete in their first match tournament. The first twenty-five golfers on the local club, who have been playing regularly, easily took the Blytheville opposition into camp. Up to the last foursome even, it looked like the locals would win. With three foursomes left but these three foursomes lost points while winning but on. This is the first loss of the local club this year, but does not count on the Southeast Missouri League schedule as Blytheville is not a member of the Missouri League. Blytheville has not lost a match this year. Leo Litzenich of Blytheville was low scorer Sunday with a 71. His 31 for the last round was the best golf played on the local course in tournament play. Thirty-one is four strokes under par for the local course. Glen Bayer of the Sikeston Club, who is home from school, and who was Captain of the University of Missouri team this year, was low shooter for the Sikeston club with a 72. Lyman Bowman, Orville Lumsden and Sonny Lee with 76s were next in line. Scores for the most part were higher than usual because of the conditions of the local sand greens caused by rains Saturday night and morning. Points for the match were:

SEMO BAKERS MOVE TO DISCONTINUE 5c BREAD

Members of the Southeast Missouri Bakers' Association operating south of New Madrid will stop making five-cent loaves of bread, beginning Monday, it was decided at a meeting of the group held here at the Marshall Hotel Tuesday morning.

Contemplating a similar move, members of the organization who live in this immediate trade territory, authorized Frank G. Yungenwaller, St. Louis, secretary of the Missouri Bakers' Association, to confer with chain grocery store executives in an effort to get them to co-operate to make this change possible here.

At Tuesday's meeting, Mr. Yungenwaller, who, with L. A. Pickard, Kennett, president of the group, led a round-table discussion, stated that the Bakers' Council recently rejected the baker's code, signed May 29 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, because of certain provisions embodied in it.

Chief among the objections, he said, were articles providing for a ninety-day trial period during which General Hugh Johnson and a board composed of a member of the American Federation of Labor, a representative of consumers, and a neutral man would study the conditions confronting bakers; and fear that the labor group would attempt to shorten further the present retail bakers' 48-hour week, and the wholesale one of 40 hour. The Bakers' Council also desires to have the code become effective on July 16 instead of next Monday, as was originally provided.

The bakers, Mr. Yungenwaller stated, represent the first large industry which has rejected a proposed code. He thinks that difficulties will be settled, however, and a revised code accepted. Those present at the meeting generally agreed that men engaged in their business are unable to absorb the increase in prices of commodities used in making bakery goods without raising their own prices. By discontinuing the five-cent loaf and making instead a twelve-ounce loaf, wholesaling for 6 cents and retailing for 8, and a sixteen-ounce loaf, for 8 and 10 cents, they believe they will have

HOME COMING WEEK

PICNIC AND BARBECUE

Morehouse, June 14.—Plans for a homecoming for former residents of Morehouse, to be sponsored by the city, were made at a meeting of interested citizens Monday evening at the City Hall. The event, to take place the first week in August, will be made up of an old-fashioned picnic and barbecue, combined with various forms of home-talent entertainment, and it is anticipated that a large number of former residents will return to visit the town and renew old acquaintances.

It is planned to send an invitation to every family which formerly lived in Morehouse, if it is possible to find their present addresses. Friends and relatives are requested to assist the committee on invitations, of which Mrs. Lillian Grossman is chairman, in making up a complete list of families and individuals who have moved away, so that all may be invited to return.

Direction of the homecoming is under the supervision of Alderman J. C. Reynolds, originator of the idea of giving the reunion, and other members of the board of aldermen. The next meeting to promote the affair will be held at the City Hall Monday evening, June 18, when reports of various committees will be heard. All interested persons are invited to attend.

A New York man owning 71 pairs of trousers died in 1880 and instructed the executor of his will to auction off the trousers without their being examined, and only one pair to a person. His wishes were carried out and the purchaser of each pair of trousers found $100 sewn in a cuff.

A bass weighing 6 3/4 pounds was caught in the Mexico Country Club Lake last week by Ralph Knox. It was the largest ever caught in the lake.

It has been estimated that approximately 8,500,000 persons in the United States are injured at work or play annually.

There are ten times as many barbers and hairdressers in the United States today as there were in 1850.

DEVILED SANDWICHES
They satisfy.
1 cup deviled ham
4 hard-cooked eggs
1-2 cup nut meats
Salad dressing
pepper - salt
Chop eggs and nut meats fine. Add deviled ham and salad dressing. Season with pepper and paprika as desired and add salt cautiously because of the saltiness of the ham. Add sufficient salad dressing to make a good filling consistency and spread on white or whole wheat bread.

UNUSUAL SETTLEMENT FOR ACCIDENT VICTIM

Because Billy Monroe Demaris, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Estel Demaris, who was almost instantly killed May 3 when he was struck by a local Frisco freight train coming south into Sikeston, breathed three or four times before he died, the Prudential Insurance Company paid half the face value of a policy, held by the child's father, for the loss of Billy's leg.

Soon after the accident the company paid the full face value of the policy for Billy's death. When he discovered that the child had lived a few moments after his left leg was severed by the train, P. H. Williams, Cairo, assistant company superintendent for this district, sent in papers showing the boy had been alive after he lost a limb. The home office replied with a settlement for half the policy's value, a sum fixed for such cases by the terms of the agreement.

Rev. D. D. Ellis, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, left Tuesday for Parma, where he will assist the Rev. J. E. Traves in a two weeks' revival meeting. He will be here Sunday, however, to conduct services here.

QUICKER AND CHEAPER CHECK ON CARS

Motorists who travel the roads and highways of Missouri with other than the proper license plates on their automobiles will do so at an extra hazard in the future, the State Highway Patrol, headed by Colonel B. M. Casteel, having equipped each of its cars with an Auto Registration Directory of Missouri, including Johnson and Wyandotte Counties, Kansas.

The directory gives the make of every car, the name and address of its owner, the license and motor numbers, etc. A patrolman can instantly ascertain the status of any car which comes under his suspicion, at the same time obviating time and expense entailed by wiring or calling headquarters.

Personal News of Sikeston

By Mrs. C. M. Harris, Phone 581

Lloyd Taylor of Dexter, who attended the Baker's meeting here Monday, also visited with his aunt, Mrs. Sallie Swanagan, and family while in this city.

The Royal Neighbor meeting announced for this afternoon has been postponed until the regular time, which will be next Friday afternoon, June 22. The purpose of the meeting is to elect a new orator. The juveniles will also hold their meeting at the close of the adult session.

Jas. A. Mocabee and Bill Baker will return today from Columbia, where they have been the past two weeks taking a course in agriculture at the Missouri University.

Mrs. L. R. Burns and sons, Bob and Peter, went to Cape Girardeau Thursday, where the latter son will enter the Southeast Missouri Hospital for treatment. Mrs. Burns and Bob will remain in that city and visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Daugherty.

News Wednesday from Mrs. Barney Forrester, a patient at Barnes' Hospital in St. Louis, was that she was still improving.

Mrs. Deborah Hirschberg and son, Jene, Mrs. Beulah Torset and son, Bobbie, of Chicago, visited here the latter part of the week with the former's son, Jean Hirschberg, and family. Mrs. Torset is a sister of Mr. Hirschberg.

Mrs. Jas. A. Mocabee, Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Mrs. Sharon Pharris and son, Jimmie, and Mrs. Fred Cross of Combs, Miss., will go to Dexter today (Friday) to visit Mrs. Oscar Pharris. Mrs. Mocabee and Mrs. Pharris and son will return home that afternoon, but Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Cross will remain for a longer visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. French, 536 South Ellis, had as guests Sunday, Mrs. Arabella Edmondson of Sikeston and granddaughters, Etta Smith and Margie Lee Edmondson of Monroe, La., and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Edmondson of Sikeston.—Cape Missourian.

Mrs. Lon Nall went to St. Louis Wednesday afternoon, for a ten days' visit with her sisters and brother, Mrs. Carl Brooks, Mrs. John Hinchey and L. T. Powers.

J. H. Tyer is again at the store, after recent illness of second attack of appendicitis.

The annual Flower Mission Day was observed Wednesday afternoon by members of the local W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Harvey Morrison on Moore avenue. Mrs. F. E. Mount was leader. Roll call was responded by each member giving a verse pertaining to a flower. The poem, "Trees", was given by Miss Sadie Emory, and the story of the life of Jennie Casseday, by Mrs. John Fox. The membership campaign to date has netted the Union 24 new members. Mrs. Jno. A. O'Hara and Mrs. Nell Hart are the Captains, and at this time Mrs. O'Hara's side was ahead. During the social hour, a smiling contest was enjoyed by members and won by Mrs. J. L. Tanner and Mrs. M. J. Thomas, followed by a picnic supper eaten on the lawn. A view of the garden at the Morrison home was enjoyed and later flowers were taken to shut-ins. One visitor, Mrs. River Tanner, was present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ide P. Trotter and son and Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Trotter and son attended a reunion of the Trotter family at Dexter, Sunday.

IMOGENE WATKINS WINS FIRST PRIZE AT MALONE

Imogene Watkins, impersonating Ruby Keeler, was awarded first prize for the best imitation of a movie star at a Hollywood premiere staged Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Malone Theatre.

Shirley Shainberg as Baby Rose Marie was given second place, and Margaret Fisher as Zasu Pitts and Katherine Hepburn, was adjudged third best. As rewards for their impersonations, these young women were given cash prizes.

Winners of fourth place and honorable mentions were presented a week's pass to the Malone Theatre. As Myrna Loy, Adagene Bowman was awarded fourth place. Honorable mentions were given to Billy Collins as Mickey McGuire and Catherine Ann Cook as Mitzi Green.

SEVERAL SIKESTONIANS ATTEND EASTERN STAR MEETING IN CHARLESTON

Several Sikeston residents went to Charleston Wednesday evening to attend a meeting of members of the fiftieth district which was called for the official visit of the worthy grand matron of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Candace Green of Dexter, and other grand officers. It was held at 8 o'clock at the Masonic temple.

They were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ritter, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Lewis, Mrs. S. E. Humphreys, Mrs. B. L. McMullin, Mrs. A. E. Shankle, Mrs. Wade Shankle, Mrs. F. E. Mount, Mrs. H. E. Dudley, Mrs. Jno. Fox, Mrs. Ralph Harper and Mrs. E. M. Crooks.

Among the other grand officers who were present at the meeting were Mrs. Jessie Lamb Townsend of Kansas City, grand chaplain; Mrs. Edith Hatton of St. Louis, grand Ruth; Mrs. Ida Belle McCoy of Poplar Bluff, grand Martha; and Mrs. Alice Schulz of Cape Girardeau, grand Electa.

FOR RENT—Two 2-room, modern furnished apts.—Mrs. Maud Sitzes. Phone 558w. tf-73.

Humans today live under more or less artificial conditions, such as closed houses, drive closed cars, wear lot of clothing, etc. These conditions often disturb nature's balance. The ultra violet rays of the sun, for instance, produce in the body a substance called Vitamin D. This vitamin affects the structure and strength of the bones and teeth. An insufficiency of Vitamin D leads to a disease called rickets, evidenced often by weak teeth which decay easily, or bowed legs, knock knees, etc. It is estimated that more than 60 per cent of the babies in this country are born with some evidence of rickets and more than 95 per cent of the school have some tooth decay.

In the search for correctives, many substitutes were found. Among such, was a process which used ultra violet rays upon foods as the sun acts upon our bodies. This process is called "Irradiation". Of course prevention of "rickets" is the aim of irradiation, rather than cure. It is of interest to know that one of the daily food items, "milk" is now being irradiated and is available at all grocery stores.

NEGROES CAUGHT BY POSSE OF OFFICERS

Five negroes were caught and returned to the Scott County jail a Benton Wednesday evening by officers who assembled after they were given a tip to stop the quintet by a Benton filling station attendant.

From the negroes' automobile, which was halted on Highway 61 near the Bloomfield road, west of Cape Girardeau, were taken a leaden dollar and a shotgun. Some of them, at least, will face charges of trying to pass spurious money to the station attendant, who called the sheriff's office after the negroes had attempted to pay for gasoline with the lead coin, and had driven off when they did pay for it with legitimate money.

Among the officers who answered a call from Deputy Sheriff Forest Tisdell, were Troopers Percy R. Little and John Tany, of the State highway patrol office here, Sheriff A. H. Hoffman, Deputy Sheriff Eugene Brunk, Police Captain Chas. Schweer and Patrolmen John Wilson and Morris Huckstep.
